African Students Visiting In Area

STUDENTS VISIT IN AREA. Three African youths are shown during a pause in their visit in The Review Tuesday afternoon discussing their itinerary with two local women who are helping to make their stay possible. Left to right are Crispin Mkandawire of Malawi, Mebrate Mengistu of Ethiopia, William Kwalazi of Tanzania, Mrs. Carl Mansfield of the Community Rescue Mission and Mrs. Barbara Morris of Substation, chairman of a project to have foreign students visit here. The youths will spend about a month in the city before attending Ohio universities.

Impressions of the United States and its people are just starting to form in the minds of two of three African students visiting the area prior to starting their studies in Ohio universities. The third has been in this country a year and is impressed primarily with individual enterprise.

The two new arrivals are Mebrate Mangistu, 21, of Ethiopia and Crispin Mkandawire, 21, of Malawi. Mebrate will attend Ohio State University at Columbus to study mining and engineering while Crispin will attend Kent State University to study journalism.

William Kwalazi of Tanzania has been in the States for a year. He is studying education, majoring in mathematics, at Kent State.

THE THREE are staying in area homes as part of a project entitled "Experiment in International Living."

Mebrate is the "homestay" of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Reynolds of Calcutta, Crispin is residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mansfield of the Community Rescue Mission, while William is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eston Maple of Vine St.

The arrangements for their coming here were made by Mrs. R. J. Morris of Substation, the area project chairman for the "International Living" project.

Mrs. Morris is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds. The Reynolds' son, Dr. Dan Reynolds, just left for the mission field in Ethiopia. He plans to meet Mebrate's father and give him pictures taken at the Reynolds' home.

The trio spent a busy day Wednesday, touring area industries and businesses. They were planning further tours today. Yesterday they visited the Sterling China Co. at Wellsville, lunched with the Wellsville Kiwanians and then toured The Review. Later in the evening, they were treated to their first motorboat ride, courtesy of Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara of Wellsville.

50 Suspects Taken In Sweeps Across Patangan Peninsula

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops completed sweeps across the Batangan Peninsula today and reported 44 Viet Cong killed and more than 50 suspects captured.

The Vietnamese troops met the heaviest resistance, on the southern tip of the peninsula 330 miles north of Saigon. They reported killing 39 Viet Cong, and a military spokesman confirmed the count.

The Marines, who landed by sea and by air at dawn Tuesday, swept across the northern tip of the peninsula and encountered virtually no resistance. The Marines killed five Viet Cong suspects, three of whom tried to escape from an underground cave. The Marines also reported that they captured 50 Viet Cong suspects.

Some 5,000 to 6,000 troops were taking part in the operation, called Piranha after the deadly South American fish. In a similar U.S. Marine offensive last month on Van Tuong Peninsula, 10 miles north of Batangan, about 600 Viet Cong were killed.

In the air war, 12 U.S. B52 jet bombers dropped nearly a half million pounds of bombs on a suspected Communist jungle stronghold less than 25 miles from Saigon.

Flying in single file, the eight-engine planes pounded the target for 25 minutes. They were ordered to the area after intelligence reports that up to a regiment of Viet Cong had moved in last week, a spokesman said.

No ground movement was detected before or after the strike, he added.

Report Capture Of Gadra

Indian Soldiers Open New Attack In West Pakistan

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India launched two new army attacks into West Pakistan today after reporting Pakistani bombers tried to attack New Delhi but were driven off.

Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan told Parliament one Indian spearhead already was five miles into southeast Pakistan.

Reports reaching New Delhi said this force captured Gadra, six miles inside the frontier about 220 miles east of Karachi, Pakistan's main port and naval base. These accounts said the army was advancing toward Khaprapar, 15 miles inside Pakistan. The Defense Ministry could not confirm these reports.

Chavan said another force crossed the northern frontier near the sector in southwestern Kashmir where the Pakistani army invasion began a week ago. He said this attack was forcing Pakistani units in the Chhamb area of Kashmir to withdraw.

Thus India opened three fronts in West Pakistan, the third one being in the Lahore sector about 110 miles south of Chhamb.

Reports from Pakistan, however, said all Indian troops had been driven from Pakistani soil on the Lahore front.

A New Delhi spokesman said the thrust into West Pakistan in the southeast was in reprisal for a Pakistani naval bombardment of the port of Dwarka, about 240 miles down the coast from Karachi.

This aroused speculation that Karachi was the Indian target. Karachi is headquarters of the Pakistani navy.

An Indian announcement said the naval attack on Dwarka caused no damage of military significance and damage to civilian life and property was still being assessed.

However, Radio Pakistan claimed the naval shelling destroyed military and radar installations at a base at Dwakra from which it said air attacks on Karachi were being made.

Lower East Coast, Keys Are Lashed

Miami River Out Of Banks, Streets Of Cities Flooded

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy swamped the lower Florida east coast today with the highest tides since the infamous hurricane of 1926 and hurled her mightiest 140-mile-an-hour wind gusts at the Florida Keys.

Storm tides running six feet above normal pushed the Miami River out of its banks and spread it out for blocks on both sides. Other tides overflowed residential islands and sent muddy floods coursing through the streets of Miami and other cities.

Despite the battering by wind and wave, only one death had been reported. Helen Cooper, 40, was electrocuted in Miami by a falling electric wire.

Not since the 1926 killer hurricane, which sent residents streaming back north, has a storm driven so much sea water ashore in the Miami area. The 1926 storm raised the tide level to 11 feet.

Forecaster Gilbert Clark said "The highest tides were just north of the eye — the area around Homestead 20 miles south of here. If the eye had crossed the coast a few miles farther north, we could have have a 10-foot tide."

The angry sea flowed across Key Biscayne, a residential and resort community, over much of Miami Beach, and surged two to three feet deep down Miami's Biscayne Boulevard. With the fall of the east wind as the hurricane passes the water was expected to recede rapidly.

But, as Florida took the worst the giant storm could give, word came from Nassau that the Bahamian capital might have come through Tuesday terrible 12-hour beating without loss of life.

A telegram sent to The Associated Press Tuesday night from Etienne Dupuch, publisher of the Nassau Tribune, said the resort city of 50,000 was "stunned, shocked and badly damaged. But so far we have no casualties."

The telegram arrived this morning, first breakthrough in the communications blackout that had fallen over the beleaguered city.

May Lose Economic Aid Also

India Pakistan Get U.S. Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Without saying so directly, the United States is warning India and Pakistan that they stand to lose their substantial American economic aid if they continue to fight.

The State Department reported Tuesday a halt in military assistance to the two countries, claiming they both were using U.S. equipment in their war over Kashmir.

The threat of a suspension of economic assistance is implicit in word from officials that the matter is still being considered.

A halt in aid appears to be Washington's trump card at the moment. Otherwise, the United States has put its power and influence behind the peace mission of U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

U.S. policy may be further outlined by Secretary of State Dean Rusk. He is scheduled to testify at a meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today.

The House Far Eastern Affairs subcommittee will investigate the war Thursday, hearing William Handley, deputy assistant secretary of state for Near East and South Asian affairs, and Carol Laise, director of the Office of South Asian Affairs.

Tuesday night, in an interview on an NBC television program on United States foreign policy, Rusk called the conflict a threat to the containment of communism.

"If these two countries could find peace with each other, the subcontinent could be impregnable from the point of view of defense and safety from the outside," he said, adding:

"We have very large stakes in the peace of the subcontinent."

In the fiscal year that ended June 30, the United States gave Pakistan $349.3 million in aid and gave India $725 million, including large shipments of wheat and other grains.

No funds have been committed this year. However, the United States promised in June to extend $435 million in economic assistance to India for its development program.

The United States was expected to announce its economic aid to Pakistan at a meeting of the World Bank which was scheduled for July. U.S. officials got the meeting postponed to Sept. 23, however, and Pakistan complained that it was being pressured through the aid program.

On Capitol Hill, the India-Pakistan conflict raised the hopes of foreign aid opponents that they can cut the annual aid appropriations bill.

The $4-billion measure, including $3,285,000,000 for direct foreign assistance, was scheduled for a final House vote late today.

County To Assume Half Of Cost For Job's First Phase

Councilmen and county commissioners agreed Tuesday night to share 50-50 in the cost of a project to be launched soon for widening of Shadyside Ave., expecting the first phase of the work will be completed before winter intervenes and the balance will be undertaken next spring.

Faced with a deluge of protests from residents of the narrow, winding thoroughfare, the officials reached agreement last night to undertake the excavation for the project as soon as possible, widening the right-of-way by approximately 10 feet, covering the surface with ashes and providing drainage.

Commissioners said they feel the work should be let to an area excavating contractor, rather than attempting to undertake it with county equipment. The cost of the work this fall was estimated at $6,000 to $8,000. Commissioners agreed to

City Asked To Sell Water For New St. Clair Service

County commissioners asked Council Tuesday night to grant legal authority for the city to sell water to a new public utility district now being established primarily to furnish water and sewer services to St. Clair Township.

The project, initiated by the defunct Southeastern Water & Sewer District and later taken over by the county government, has advanced to the point where contracts can be let soon for installation of the water lines—provided a source is assured—Commissioner Max Gard told Council.

Council promised to study the request and issue a reply shortly—by the next regular meeting Sept. 20, or possibly sooner. The ordinance committee was asked to investigate the problem.

Gard explained that the district being established to serve the Glenmoor and Calcutta areas is just one phase of a countywide project to provide water and sewer services to any community where they are needed. But the St. Clair project will proceed first because much of the preliminary work had been done before the county assumed the responsibility, he said.

Gard was accompanied by Commissioners James Boyd and Frank Wilson, who joined in the

Solicitor's Ruling Asked

Murray Seeks To Retain Ward Councilman's Post

Councilman Floyd Murray said Tuesday night he prefers to remain in his present post as First Ward member rather than move up to the presidency for the four months remaining in the unexpired term of George E. Willshaw, who advanced to the mayor's office Sept. 1.

Murray presided at Council's first September session last night, but as president pro tem in place of Willshaw, rather than as the new full - time president. The question of his succession to the presidency and election of a successor in the First Ward seat were not mentioned during the Council session.

Queried following the session, Murray said he has asked Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper for rulings on legal questions that will arise if he decides to remain as the First Ward member. The principal questions are:

1. If Murray does not move up, may Council elect the new First Ward member, or will that be the prerogative of Willshaw.

2. As president pro tem, is Murray required automatically to move up when the presidency is vacated?

3. If he resigns as president, pro tem, seeking to avoid an automatic move up, would the law take the view that he already was the president, and, therefore, was resigning his Council connection completely, rather than attempting only to quit as pro tem?

City Asked To Sell Water For New St. Clair Service

County commissioners asked Council Tuesday night to grant legal authority for the city to sell water to a new public utility district now being established primarily to furnish water and sewer services to St. Clair Township.

The project, initiated by the defunct Southeastern Water & Sewer District and later taken over by the county government, has advanced to the point where contracts can be let soon for installation of the water lines—provided a source is assured—Commissioner Max Gard told Council.

Council promised to study the request and issue a reply shortly—by the next regular meeting Sept. 20, or possibly sooner. The ordinance committee was asked to investigate the problem.

Gard explained that the district being established to serve the Glenmoor and Calcutta areas is just one phase of a countywide project to provide water and sewer services to any community where they are needed. But the St. Clair project will proceed first because much of the preliminary work had been done before the county assumed the responsibility, he said.

Gard was accompanied by Commissioners James Boyd and Frank Wilson, who joined in the

Glenn Mathess Given Post On Council At Wellsville

Glenn Mathess of 604 Main St. was appointed to Wellsville Council Tuesday night to fill the unexpired term of the late Dwight MacLean of the Second Ward.

Council held a caucus session prior to its regular meeting after which Councilman Paul Todd, president pro-tem, announced an agreement had been reached on the appointment of Mathess and a formal motion was made to make the selection official.

Mathess, who was in the audience, then was given the oath of office by Solicitor William Bush. He will serve until the end of December. He is a Republican candidate for the seat at the November general elec-

Solicitor's Ruling Asked

Murray Seeks To Retain Ward Councilman's Post

Councilman Floyd Murray said Tuesday night he prefers to remain in his present post as First Ward member rather than move up to the presidency for the four months remaining in the unexpired term of George E. Willshaw, who advanced to the mayor's office Sept. 1.

Murray presided at Council's first September session last night, but as president pro tem in place of Willshaw, rather than as the new full - time president. The question of his succession to the presidency and election of a successor in the First Ward seat were not mentioned during the Council session.

Queried following the session, Murray said he has asked Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper for rulings on legal questions that will arise if he decides to remain as the First Ward member. The principal questions are:

1. If Murray does not move up, may Council elect the new First Ward member, or will that be the prerogative of Willshaw.

2. As president pro tem, is Murray required automatically to move up when the presidency is vacated?

3. If he resigns as president, pro tem, seeking to avoid an automatic move up, would the law take the view that he already was the president, and, therefore, was resigning his Council connection completely, rather than attempting only to quit as pro tem?

Mebrate and Crispin both commented that it is too soon for them to gather any solid impressions of the U.S. since, as they put it, they have seen only the best side of the American face.

One thing that did strike them is the conformity of the teen-agers in their mannerisms.

William said he is amazed at the "tremendous wealth," not only of large industries, but of individuals. He said the homes of the average American display a much higher degree of prosperity than is found anywhere else.

Crispin's country won its independence in July 1964. He attended a junior college for two years. His father is a magistrate. Malawi is part of the former Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

Mebrate commented that in Ethiopia the quality of food is about the same, but that a meal consists of a large quantity of one kind of food and not several kinds. They all said it seems strange to use a different dish for each of the foods. They are accustomed to using one dish for all the food. This would save in the washing of dishes, they pointed out—to which no one can disagree.

Mrs. Morris and her family became interested in the project through the United Presbyterian Women project of Target Africa three years ago. She is continuing now on her own.

Another recent guest in the city was Florence Moyo, 24, of Rhodesia, who visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Henderson of Erie St.

The Morris family had Sam Akinbami of Nigeria in 1962. The personal interest has continued and Sam is residing with them again this summer while working on construction of the freeway here. He was graduated this year from Purdue University as a civil engineer, ranking in the first fifth of his class. He plans to study for a master's degree in sanitary engineering at Wisconsin the coming year.

Before arriving at the home of families who participate in the program, the students spend a week in Vermont becoming indoctrinated to the way of life here.

Mebrate and Crispin both commented that it is too soon for them to gather any solid impressions of the U.S. since, as they put it, they have seen only the best side of the American face.

One thing that did strike them is the conformity of the teen-agers in their mannerisms.

William said he is amazed at the "tremendous wealth," not only of large industries, but of individuals. He said the homes of the average American display a much higher degree of prosperity than is found anywhere else.

Crispin's country won its independence in July 1964. He attended a junior college for two years. His father is a magistrate. Malawi is part of the former Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

ALL ARE unaccustomed to the habit of eating several different types of food for a meal. Mebrate commented that in Ethiopia the quality of food is about the same, but that a meal consists of a large quantity of one kind of food and not several kinds. They all said it seems strange to use a different dish for each of the foods. They are accustomed to using one dish for all the food. This would save in the washing of dishes, they pointed out—to which no one can disagree.

Mrs. Morris and her family became interested in the project through the United Presbyterian Women project of Target Africa three years ago. She is continuing now on her own.

Another recent guest in the city was Florence Moyo, 24, of Rhodesia, who visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Henderson of Erie St.

The Morris family had Sam Akinbami of Nigeria in 1962. The personal interest has continued and Sam is residing with them again this summer while working on construction of the freeway here. He was graduated this year from Purdue University as a civil engineer, ranking in the first fifth of his class. He plans to study for a master's degree in sanitary engineering at Wisconsin the coming year.

Before arriving at the home of families who participate in the program, the students spend a week in Vermont becoming indoctrinated to the way of life here.

Reality's New Shape

What happens in steel is still the precursor of what is going to happen elsewhere.

When steel talked about a guaranteed annual wage, bargainers in other industries talked about it, too.

The new shape of reality in steel—the new fashion-setter in industrial contracts—is a combination of current and deferred benefits, with heavy emphasis on the latter.

For example, employes with 30 years' service in steel can retire on full pension after Aug. 1 next year, regardless of age. They can draw maximum pensions equivalent to as much as 35 times $5—$175 a month.

Employes "retiring" due to shutdowns or after two-year disability layoffs can draw an extra $75 a month until Social Security benefits fall due.

The term of sickness and accident benefits will be doubled. Life insurance and medical benefits will be improved. Pension benefits for employes who retired before Aug. 1, 1966, will be improved. Employes with five years' service will be entitled to transfers to other plants, with more generous relocation allowances.

Significantly, the cost of these fringe benefits and direct wages increases cannot be agreed on by employers, the steel union and the government.

The fact is that the cost is not absolute. It is relative to future events. Experience alone will reveal the cost.

The steel industry will do everything in its wide-ranging power to minimize the cost, as it has done after every settlement that boosted the ante.

It will continue to automate.

It will substitute machinery for manpower wherever it can.

When the new contract runs out in three years there will be fewer steelworkers than there are now.

Employers once decided how much they intended to pay and that was the industrial contract. Employes took it or left it.

Now, once it has been decided through a process of politico-socio-economic pressure what employes should be given, employers can take it or soften the impact by stepping up efficiency; i.e., cutting down on the human labor force.

Knowing this, employes are increasingly interested in post-employment security, which today is a combination of what they have coming from their one-time employer and the federal government.

It is a far cry from a guaranteed annual wage.

U.S. Supplies The Guns

It will be grim solace to a bruised and battered national conscience to realize the United States is absolutely impartial in the war between India and Pakistan.

It has proved its impartiality by supplying weapons for both combatants, knowing Indians fully intended to kill Pakistanis if they could, and vice versa.

Their dispute is over control of Kashmir-Jammu, a 77 per cent Moslem state that both republics want to control.

It has been a certainty for many years that their military confrontation in the disputed area would flare into violent, sustained warfare sooner or later.

Both countries have sought and received large-scale U.S. military aid, in addition to massive economic assistance.

The United States could predict with certainty that its policy of being generous to each would-be combatant would result sometime in a major outburst of belligerency. The United Nations has tried since 1948 to substitute agreement for animosity, with no success.

Meanwhile, the United States has tried without success to keep each belligerent off the other's back by supplying arms.

This has been consistent with the now unquestioned doctrine that the only way to discourage a would-be attacker is to be a would-be attacker.

But now the would-be attackers are at it, hot and heavy, using U.S. weapons.

Somehow the doctrine of furnishing arms to everybody, to keep peace, doesn't seem unquestionable any more.

It makes no more sense internationally than it makes nationally to sell every would-be attacker a gun and hope it never will be used for anything but sporting purposes.

If You're Reading This . . .

There now will be a lull in auto safety campaigns until the long Thanksgiving weekend.

Between now and then, if you escaped an accident during the Labor Day weekend, you can study defensive driving, the best way to stay alive.

If you're reading this, chances are you already know quite a lot about defensive driving. Otherwise, you would be a component element in national auto fatality statistics.

Highways never will be safe, nor will homes. Hazards are built in to both.

The more autos there are, moreover, and the more miles they are driven, the more deaths there will be, both absolutely and relatively.

There is no prospect of complete highway safety—ever. Drivers always will do foolish, reckless things in cars.

But drivers who work at it can learn how to avert many of the consequences of bad driving on the part of others. They can learn to defend themselves, their passengers and other prudent drivers.

They can increase their chances of staying alive while driving. They can learn to defend themselves, the only way presently in sight to achieve safety on the roads as autos keep "improving" and drivers stay about the same, or perhaps get a little worse.

No Buildup

By Truman Twill

The site of the graves is marked by a cross that Dr. Schweitzer had made for the purpose. At 90, he knew death was on the way.

Thus ended a life that was a focus of international interest because it was lived the way it ended — with no pomp, no ostentation, no vanity.

In itself, this was not unusual. Millions of us live and die obscurely.

The difference is that Dr. Schweitzer was not obscure.

His name and face were known to millions. He had every reason to think of himself as a Very Important Person.

But he refused to bask in the glory he had earned with his skill as a theologian, physician, surgeon, musician, philosopher, missionary and founder of one of the world's most famous hospitals.

His point of view about his hospital at Lambarene summed up his attitude.

He looked on it as a service institution, helping primitive people to survive in a jungle environment.

He never made it conform to the hospital image of visitors from the outside—and they were dismayed by its shortcomings.

They could not see what was clear to Dr. Schweitzer, that service to humanity was being given in terms the recipients could understand and in a form consistent with their circumstances.

Few of us could say honestly that we understood this man who preferred to live in an African jungle and serve the neediest of his fellow men.

But many of us could say during recent years that we were awed by a dimension of human compassion and humility that made us feel like pygmies.

And those who didn't feel like pygmies felt superior to Dr. Schweitzer, pitying him for not making the most of his opportunity to make a killing with his worldwide fame.

It was the same thing. In either case, Dr. Schwietzer emerged as a most unusual man, whether he was being admired or criticized.

Is it all over now?

Did death finish the living legend?

Don't be surprised if the story of his life is retold generations from now, long after all the Very Important People who were his contemporaries have shriveled into the dimensions of their eroding tombstones.

It can turn out that way when service to others is more than a talking point — when something actually is done in behalf of mankind with no hope of gain, no thought of fame.

It has been our privilege to live in the presence of that special greatness which comes from the deed without the buildup.

Albert Schweitzer needed no buildup.

Purely Personal

We learned about three reasons for the size and beauty of the flowers in places like Portland, Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver. One, they are showplaces, proud of their appearance. Two, they have inexhaustible water supplies. Three, they have no hard freezes. After seeing what can be done with this combination, I intend to blacktop my barren acreage and call it quits.

I have had to explain a bandage on my right hand. I tried to tighten the tension on a spiral spring for an overhead garage door. I didn't have the proper tools. The spring uncoiled . . . prrttt! Its jagged end plowed a furrow in the base of my thumb. I am lucky it didn't take off the thumb. I am lucky it didn't take off my head. Moral: Do not mess with spiral springs.

As Important As Curbing Dropouts

Labor Stands Behind U.S. Policy

By Victor Riesel

A private and highly secret survey of the nation's union chiefs discloses that only two of hundreds of powerful labor leaders in the land oppose America's policies in Viet Nam.

Victor Riesel

Despite Herculean and apparently well-financed efforts by pacifists, professorial and political, to find a mass base in the labor movement, they've gained no allies among the working people of the land.

Some of the pacifists and university leaders had hoped to stir headline-grabbing debate over U.S. policy at the AFL-CIO convention Dec. 9, in San Francisco's Civic Auditorium. This would have made a fine forum for them. But it won't happen.

ONLY ONE of the two nationally prominent and powerful labor chiefs bitterly opposed to President Johnson's Southeast Asian policies will be on the floor of that gathering of some 900 top echelon union leaders.

He is the United Auto Workers union secretary - treasurer, Emil Mazey. At the moment he is second in command of the union led by Walter Reuther.

Should the "redhead" run for public office, or accept an ambassadorship as is often rumored he might, then Mazey would step in as president of the million - member, Detroit-based organization.

The only other important labor leader now assailing U.S. policy is Harry Bridges, president of the West Coat International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU).

THAT UNION was ousted from the labor movement after a "trial" by its peers during which the "prosecutor" was Arthur Goldberg, now U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. In effect, the ILWU was heaved out of labor's formal ranks on charges of adopting policies which closely paralleled the Soviet line.

There is no relationship between Mazey and Bridges. They do not work together. There is only coincidence in the similarity of their strong attacks on the fighting in Viet Nam.

The outspoken anger of Mazey's criticism has surprised observers. He has not aroused any public controversy nor wide discussion inside labor because his speeches generally have gone unreported—and because he is overshadowed by Reuther. But his talks have been pungent indeed.

MAZEY'S POINT is that the Viet Cong controls South Viet Nam, and therefore the U.S. is fighting the forces who actually represent the people there.

"It's ridiculous and asinine," asserts Mazey, "and it's unrealistic to say that we are prepared for unconditional negotiations but yet are unwilling to negotiate with the people who control the country. . . ."

Or he states that: "President Johnson has repeatedly asserted that we are in Viet Nam . . . to defend freedom and liberty. I disagree. There is no freedom in South Viet Nam. There is no liberty in South Viet Nam. There is no democracy in South Viet Nam.

"There is no representative government in South Viet Nam. There is no free trade - union movement in South Viet Nam freedom or democracy existing in South Viet Nam at all."

THIS STRONGLY runs counter to the attitude of AFL-CIO national president, George Meany. But that does not bother Mazey, who adds, "I don't agree with George Meany when he says we have to support the President because the President has information that is not available to the rest of us. . . ."

The criticism of American policy in Southeast Asia is just as strong, but more raucous, when it comes from Harry Bridges' organization. In its statements, the union accuses American military officials of being cynical and "laughingly" referring to the use of anti-riot gas as "benevolent incapacitators."

Bridges' union officially accuses the White House of "negotiation through escalation." The union calls for the end of bombings, a cease fire and withdrawal of all "foreign troops." Meaning U.S. men, I presume.

The ranks of labor officials who are critical of U.S. policy grow only razor-edged thicker if one includes a handful of lesser officials and some Canadian unionists.

But all together they don't come to a corporal's guard. The working people of the land are behind America's tactics over there.

Learn To Say 'No'

By Hal Boyle

There are so many things clutching at a man's mind, time and pocketbook that he has to adopt a negative attitude as a matter of self-defense. If he can't learn to say no, the piranhas of civilization will eat him alive.

To endure, a fellow must learn to turn a deaf ear to enticing suggestions. For example, here are a few commonplace invitations that can lead only to confusion, bankruptcy, regret or disaster:

"It's only a small friendly game, and we'll put a limit on the size of the bets. You'll be home before midnight, I promise you."

"But supposing I am the one to go first, Henry. Would you want to marry again, supposing you met someone who was really attractive? Now tell me the truth."

"Let me pick up the tickets for the show, and you handle the dinner tab for the bunch. Okay?"

"Try one of these. It's a recipe I made up myself. You mix a quart of gin, a quart of creme de menthe, a pound of brown sugar, three ounces of prune juice and —"

"I don't care how many fillings you've got, Henry, anybody can crack walnuts with his teeth. There's a trick to it—it's all a matter of leverage. Open your mouth, put the walnut right there, and —"

"We'd appreciate it very much if you'd accept the chairmanship of our P-TA committee on readership problems in the sixth grade. It will take only a few minutes of your time each month."

"In recognition of your standing as a leader in the community, we are letting you in on the ground floor of a business opportunity that comes only once in a lifetime."

"Dad, these kids don't believe me when I tell them you used to throw 50 yard passes in high school. Here's our football. Show 'em how easy it is."

"Don't let it floor you just because I'm the boss and this is my idea, Henry. If you don't think it is sound, speak right up and say so."

"Anybody can dance the frug. Come on, step out on the dance I'll show you."

"Buy now, pay at your leisure."

"Be a sport, Dad. If you make the down payment, I'll save up and meet all the installments. Cross my heart I will."

"What if you are on a diet? One little piece of chocolate cake won't hurt you."

"The price may seem a bit high for a house this old, but we can practically guarantee you against loss. Confidentially, we hear the state plans to build a six-lane highway right through this land."

"What if the tax people have challenged your 1962 income return. Don't let 'em bluff you. Threaten to take them into court. They'll back down."

Yes, it's the invitations a man rejects that add years to his peace of mind.

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

Federal Intervention

By David Lawrence

It Supersedes Collective Bargaining

Collective bargaining as the means of settling wage disputes in the major industries of the country has been superseded by presidential intervention and by what Herbert Spencer, the British philosopher, once called "compulsory cooperation."

David Lawrence

Without sanction of law but relying on the argument that the "public interest" is paramount, President Johnson has, in effect, forced a settlement in the steel industry which gives the workers more than they have ever had before—they'll be earning an average of $8,000 to $10,000 a year. As for the steel companies, it has been emphasized in the press that prices were not mentioned in the President's discussions with the negotiators. This is understandable inasmuch as competing steel companies cannot discuss prices in each other's presence, even during a labor negotiation, without subjecting themselves to threats of prosecution under the anti-trust laws.

Inevitably there will be price rises. The steel companies will not raise them "across the board" or engage in any dramatic announcements. They'll be "selective" about it. This means that in those specialties in which certain companies excel the latter will move the prices upward. In the usual category of products, the prices will go up gradually in due time.

SO THE SETTLEMENT does impair the image of "wage-price stability" which has been painted. Other unions, moreover, will not be content to stay far below the wage rates earned by the Steel Workers. As for the oft-used but little understood word "guidelines"—which supposedly offset the cost of wage increases by gains in the "productivity" of labor—this is the kind of gobbledygook which confuses the public but doesn't disturb the labor leaders who know only one direction for wage rates to go, and that's upward.

The whole drama in Washington, including the free meals for the negotiators at the White House and the spectacular pleas to "remember the boys in Viet Nam," fitted in with the tactics of the steel-union leaders. They wanted to make gains in wage rates but were afraid their own opposition inside the union would demand more if it appeared that the union representatives were too willing to agree with management.

As a matter of fact, the negotiators on both sides knew from the beginning the approximate point at which an agreement could be reached and were not too unhappy when the President stepped in. The effect was to help the labor-union leaders to accept a "compromise" that was really a victory for them.

IT HELPED the steel companies, too, to build up their own case for eventual price rises with a confident feeling that the administration will not clamp down on them and send FBI agents scurrying around anti-trust suits against them, as happened during the Kennedy administration.

What's become of "collective bargaining"? The New York Times editorially declares that "the bargainers had to be summoned to the White House and held virtual prisoners until they signed a pact." It adds:

"Little about the negotiations did credit to labor-management relations in steel or to the institution of collective bargaining. . . .

"Indeed, it is hard to escape the belief that much of the hippodrome atmosphere of the White House conferences was specifically designed to help the union leaders off the hook on which they had hung themselves by overexuberant campaign pledges of militant accomplishment."

The New York Herald Tribune, pointing out that the collective - bargaining process had not gained in prestige, says:

"Presidential intercession in wage disputes is hardly a desirable development; once begun, it is difficult to stop—an expectation of White House intervention can freeze bargainers on both sides, encouraging them to save their concessions for the trip to Washington."

THE CHICAGO Tribune sees a sinister development in the fact that the President "decreed that a settlement must be non-inflationary and must preserve steel-price stability." It then asks:

"If that isn't price-fixing, what is? The President does it openly and in an unabashed manner, for government, of course, exempts itself from liability under the anti-trust laws and its 'right' to decree prices cannot readily be challenged."

More and more as the government intervenes in the "public interest," the public will find that it is the "political interest" which is paramount and that, in the face of rising wage scales, price rises to pay for them cannot be inhibited without forcing many a marginal company into bankruptcy or merger with the bigger fellows. The political alliance between the labor unions and the administration is paying off, and the free - enterprise system is losing its freedom.

Meanwhile, the ideologists in far-off Moscow will rejoice that America may be beginning to travel the road to state socialism under a government-controlled economy and in keeping with "the spirit of the times."

Reality's New Shape

What happens in steel is still the precursor of what is going to happen elsewhere.

The new shape of reality in steel—the new fashion-setter in industrial contracts—is a combination of current and deferred benefits, with heavy emphasis on the latter.

For example, employes with 30 years' service in steel can retire on full pension after Aug. 1 next year, regardless of age. They can draw maximum pensions equivalent to as much as 35 times $5—$175 a month.

Employes "retiring" due to shutdowns or after two-year disability layoffs can draw an extra $75 a month until Social Security benefits fall due.

The term of sickness and accident benefits will be doubled. Life insurance and medical benefits will be improved. Pension benefits for employes who retired before Aug. 1, 1966, will be improved. Employes with five years' service will be entitled to transfers to other plants, with more generous relocation allowances.

Significantly, the cost of these fringe benefits and direct wages increases cannot be agreed on by employers, the steel union and the government.

The fact is that the cost is not absolute. It is relative to future events. Experience alone will reveal the cost.

The steel industry will do everything in its wide-ranging power to minimize the cost, as it has done after every settlement that boosted the ante.

It will continue to automate.

It will substitute machinery for manpower wherever it can.

When the new contract runs out in three years there will be fewer steelworkers than there are now.

Employers once decided how much they intended to pay and that was the industrial contract. Employes took it or left it.

Now, once it has been decided through a process of politico-socio-economic pressure what employes should be given, employers can take it or soften the impact by stepping up efficiency; i.e., cutting down on the human labor force.

Knowing this, employes are increasingly interested in post-employment security, which today is a combination of what they have coming from their one-time employer and the federal government.

It is a far cry from a guaranteed annual wage.

U.S. Supplies The Guns

It will be grim solace to a bruised and battered national conscience to realize the United States is absolutely impartial in the war between India and Pakistan.

It has proved its impartiality by supplying weapons for both combatants, knowing Indians fully intended to kill Pakistanis if they could, and vice versa.

Their dispute is over control of Kashmir-Jammu, a 77 per cent Moslem state that both republics want to control.

It has been a certainty for many years that their military confrontation in the disputed area would flare into violent, sustained warfare sooner or later.

Both countries have sought and received large-scale U.S. military aid, in addition to massive economic assistance.

The United States could predict with certainty that its policy of being generous to each would-be combatant would result sometime in a major outburst of belligerency. The United Nations has tried since 1948 to substitute agreement for animosity, with no success.

Meanwhile, the United States has tried without success to keep each belligerent off the other's back by supplying arms.

This has been consistent with the now unquestioned doctrine that the only way to discourage a would-be attacker is to be a would-be attacker.

But now the would-be attackers are at it, hot and heavy, using U.S. weapons.

Somehow the doctrine of furnishing arms to everybody, to keep peace, doesn't seem unquestionable any more.

It makes no more sense internationally than it makes nationally to sell every would-be attacker a gun and hope it never will be used for anything but sporting purposes.

If You're Reading This . . .

There now will be a lull in auto safety campaigns until the long Thanksgiving weekend.

Between now and then, if you escaped an accident during the Labor Day weekend, you can study defensive driving, the best way to stay alive.

If you're reading this, chances are you already know quite a lot about defensive driving. Otherwise, you would be a component element in national auto fatality statistics.

Highways never will be safe, nor will homes. Hazards are built in to both.

The more autos there are, moreover, and the more miles they are driven, the more deaths there will be, both absolutely and relatively.

There is no prospect of complete highway safety—ever. Drivers always will do foolish, reckless things in cars.

But drivers who work at it can learn how to avert many of the consequences of bad driving on the part of others. They can learn to defend themselves, their passengers and other prudent drivers.

They can increase their chances of staying alive while driving. They can learn to defend themselves, the only way presently in sight to achieve safety on the roads as autos keep "improving" and drivers stay about the same, or perhaps get a little worse.

No Buildup

By Truman Twill

Death came to Albert Schweitzer at 90 in an African hut.

The site of the graves is marked by a cross that Dr. Schweitzer had made for the purpose. At 90, he knew death was on the way.

Thus ended a life that was a focus of international interest because it was lived the way it ended — with no pomp, no ostentation, no vanity.

In itself, this was not unusual. Millions of us live and die obscurely.

The difference is that Dr. Schweitzer was not obscure.

His name and face were known to millions. He had every reason to think of himself as a Very Important Person.

But he refused to bask in the glory he had earned with his skill as a theologian, physician, surgeon, musician, philosopher, missionary and founder of one of the world's most famous hospitals.

His point of view about his hospital at Lambarene summed up his attitude.

He looked on it as a service institution, helping primitive people to survive in a jungle environment.

He never made it conform to the hospital image of visitors from the outside—and they were dismayed by its shortcomings.

They could not see what was clear to Dr. Schweitzer, that service to humanity was being given in terms the recipients could understand and in a form consistent with their circumstances.

Few of us could say honestly that we understood this man who preferred to live in an African jungle and serve the neediest of his fellow men.

But many of us could say during recent years that we were awed by a dimension of human compassion and humility that made us feel like pygmies.

And those who didn't feel like pygmies felt superior to Dr. Schweitzer, pitying him for not making the most of his opportunity to make a killing with his worldwide fame.

It was the same thing. In either case, Dr. Schwietzer emerged as a most unusual man, whether he was being admired or criticized.

Is it all over now?

Did death finish the living legend?

Don't be surprised if the story of his life is retold generations from now, long after all the Very Important People who were his contemporaries have shriveled into the dimensions of their eroding tombstones.

It can turn out that way when service to others is more than a talking point — when something actually is done in behalf of mankind with no hope of gain, no thought of fame.

It has been our privilege to live in the presence of that special greatness which comes from the deed without the buildup.

Albert Schweitzer needed no buildup.

Purely Personal

We learned about three reasons for the size and beauty of the flowers in places like Portland, Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver. One, they are showplaces, proud of their appearance. Two, they have inexhaustible water supplies. Three, they have no hard freezes. After seeing what can be done with this combination, I intend to blacktop my barren acreage and call it quits.

I have had to explain a bandage on my right hand. I tried to tighten the tension on a spiral spring for an overhead garage door. I didn't have the proper tools. The spring uncoiled . . . prrttt! Its jagged end plowed a furrow in the base of my thumb. I am lucky it didn't take off the thumb. I am lucky it didn't take off my head. Moral: Do not mess with spiral springs.

As Important As Curbing Dropouts

Labor Stands Behind U.S. Policy

By Victor Riesel

A private and highly secret survey of the nation's union chiefs discloses that only two of hundreds of powerful labor leaders in the land oppose America's policies in Viet Nam.

Victor Riesel

Despite Herculean and apparently well-financed efforts by pacifists, professorial and political, to find a mass base in the labor movement, they've gained no allies among the working people of the land.

Some of the pacifists and university leaders had hoped to stir headline-grabbing debate over U.S. policy at the AFL-CIO convention Dec. 9, in San Francisco's Civic Auditorium. This would have made a fine forum for them. But it won't happen.

ONLY ONE of the two nationally prominent and powerful labor chiefs bitterly opposed to President Johnson's Southeast Asian policies will be on the floor of that gathering of some 900 top echelon union leaders.

He is the United Auto Workers union secretary - treasurer, Emil Mazey. At the moment he is second in command of the union led by Walter Reuther.

Should the "redhead" run for public office, or accept an ambassadorship as is often rumored he might, then Mazey would step in as president of the million - member, Detroit-based organization.

The only other important labor leader now assailing U.S. policy is Harry Bridges, president of the West Coat International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU).

THAT UNION was ousted from the labor movement after a "trial" by its peers during which the "prosecutor" was Arthur Goldberg, now U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. In effect, the ILWU was heaved out of labor's formal ranks on charges of adopting policies which closely paralleled the Soviet line.

There is no relationship between Mazey and Bridges. They do not work together. There is only coincidence in the similarity of their strong attacks on the fighting in Viet Nam.

The outspoken anger of Mazey's criticism has surprised observers. He has not aroused any public controversy nor wide discussion inside labor because his speeches generally have gone unreported—and because he is overshadowed by Reuther. But his talks have been pungent indeed.

MAZEY'S POINT is that the Viet Cong controls South Viet Nam, and therefore the U.S. is fighting the forces who actually represent the people there.

"It's ridiculous and asinine," asserts Mazey, "and it's unrealistic to say that we are prepared for unconditional negotiations but yet are unwilling to negotiate with the people who control the country. . . ."

Or he states that: "President Johnson has repeatedly asserted that we are in Viet Nam . . . to defend freedom and liberty. I disagree. There is no freedom in South Viet Nam. There is no liberty in South Viet Nam. There is no democracy in South Viet Nam.

"There is no representative government in South Viet Nam. There is no free trade - union movement in South Viet Nam. freedom or democracy existing in South Viet Nam at all."

THIS STRONGLY runs counter to the attitude of AFL-CIO national president, George Meany. But that does not bother Mazey, who adds, "I don't agree with George Meany when he says we have to support the President because the President has information that is not available to the rest of us. . . ."

The criticism of American policy in Southeast Asia is just as strong, but more raucous, when it comes from Harry Bridges' organization. In its statements, the union accuses American military officials of being cynical and "laughingly" referring to the use of anti-riot gas as "benevolent incapacitators."

Bridges' union officially accuses the White House of "negotiation through escalation." The union calls for the end of bombings, a cease fire and withdrawal of all "foreign troops." Meaning U.S. men, I presume.

The ranks of labor officials who are critical of U.S. policy grow only razor-edged thicker if one includes a handful of lesser officials and some Canadian unionists.

But all together they don't come to a corporal's guard. The working people of the land are behind America's tactics over there.

Learn To Say 'No'

By Hal Boyle

There are so many things clutching at a man's mind, time and pocketbook that he has to adopt a negative attitude as a matter of self-defense. If he can't learn to say no, the piranhas of civilization will eat him alive.

To endure, a fellow must learn to turn a deaf ear to enticing suggestions. For example, here are a few commonplace invitations that can lead only to confusion, bankruptcy, regret or disaster:

"It's only a small friendly game, and we'll put a limit on the size of the bets. You'll be home before midnight, I promise you."

"But supposing I am the one to go first, Henry. Would you want to marry again, supposing you met someone who was really attractive? Now tell me the truth."

"Let me pick up the tickets for the show, and you handle the dinner tab for the bunch. Okay?"

"Try one of these. It's a recipe I made up myself. You mix a quart of gin, a quart of creme de menthe, a pound of brown sugar, three ounces of prune juice and —"

"I don't care how many fillings you've got, Henry, anybody can crack walnuts with his teeth. There's a trick to it—it's all a matter of leverage. Open your mouth, put the walnut right there, and —"

"We'd appreciate it very much if you'd accept the chairmanship of our P-TA committee on readership problems in the sixth grade. It will take only a few minutes of your time each month."

"In recognition of your standing as a leader in the community, we are letting you in on the ground floor of a business opportunity that comes only once in a lifetime."

"Dad, these kids don't believe me when I tell them you used to throw 50 yard passes in high school. Here's our football. Show 'em how easy it is."

"Don't let it floor you just because I'm the boss and this is my idea, Henry. If you don't think it is sound, speak right up and say so."

"Anybody can dance the frug. Come on, step out on the dance I'll show you."

"Buy now, pay at your leisure."

"Be a sport, Dad. If you make the down payment, I'll save up and meet all the installments. Cross my heart I will."

"What if you are on a diet? One little piece of chocolate cake won't hurt you."

"The price may seem a bit high for a house this old, but we can practically guarantee you against loss. Confidentially, we hear the state plans to build a six-lane highway right through this land."

"What if the tax people have challenged your 1962 income return. Don't let 'em bluff you. Threaten to take them into court. They'll back down."

Yes, it's the invitations a man rejects that add years to his peace of mind.

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

Federal Intervention

By David Lawrence

It Supersedes Collective Bargaining

Collective bargaining as the means of settling wage disputes in the major industries of the country has been superseded by presidential intervention and by what Herbert Spencer, the British philosopher, once called "compulsory cooperation."

David Lawrence

Without sanction of law but relying on the argument that the "public interest" is paramount, President Johnson has, in effect, forced a settlement in the steel industry which gives the workers more than they have ever had before—they'll be earning an average of $8,000 to $10,000 a year. As for the steel companies, it has been emphasized in the press that prices were not mentioned in the President's discussions with the negotiators. This is understandable inasmuch as competing steel companies cannot discuss prices in each other's presence, even during a labor negotiation, without subjecting themselves to threats of prosecution under the anti-trust laws.

Inevitably there will be price rises. The steel companies will not raise them "across the board" or engage in any dramatic announcements. They'll be "selective" about it. This means that in those specialties in which certain companies excel the latter will move the prices upward. In the usual category of products, the prices will go up gradually in due time.

SO THE SETTLEMENT does impair the image of "wage-price stability" which has been painted. Other unions, moreover, will not be content to stay far below the wage rates earned by the Steel Workers. As for the oft-used but little understood word "guidelines"—which supposedly offset the cost of wage increases by gains in the "productivity" of labor—this is the kind of gobbledygook which confuses the public but doesn't disturb the labor leaders who know only one direction for wage rates to go, and that's upward.

The whole drama in Washington, including the free meals for the negotiators at the White House and the spectacular pleas to "remember the boys in Viet Nam," fitted in with the tactics of the steel-union leaders. They wanted to make gains in wage rates but were afraid their own opposition inside the union would demand more if it appeared that the union representatives were too willing to agree with management.

As a matter of fact, the negotiators on both sides knew from the beginning the approximate point at which an agreement could be reached and were not too unnappy when the President stepped in. The effect was to help the labor-union leaders to accept a "compromise" that was really a victory for them.

IT HELPED the steel companies, too, to build up their own case for eventual price rises with a confident feeling that the administration will not clamp down on them and send FBI agents scurrying around anti-trust suits against them, as happened during the Kennedy administration.

What's become of "collective bargaining"? The New York Times editorially declares that "the bargainers had to be summoned to the White House and held virtual prisoners until they signed a pact." It adds:

tion. Mr. MacLean was a Republican.

Mathess also is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge Associates. He is married and has three children. He will head council's street and light committee.

Joe M. Hall of 102 6th St., a Republican candidate for council-at-large, also had applied for the vacancy. These were the only two applications received.

Mathess thanked council "for putting your trust in me. I will try to do the best possible." He is an employe at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. He also is a volunteer firemen.

In other business, Council received a request from Mayor William Daugherty to grant wage increases to city employes. The mayor said there are sufficient funds in the departments that bring in revenue to provide for the increases. He said about 21 employes would be affected.

Councilman Walter Henthorne said he agreed with the mayor on the need for increases and said Council members also should be considered for a salary boost. "You tie up a lot of hours for $20 a month. We should consider a raise for the officials," he said.

The mayor said he had plans from the Ohio State Highway Department on the proposed relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville. He said he also has received a traffic survey made by the state. The mayor offered the plans and survey figures to Council, urging the legislators to form a committee to become familiar with the project to date. No action was taken.

THE MAYOR also presented a plan for hiring persons to spot traffic violators and see that they are prosecuted. He said the proposal calls for individuals to work first in the school areas and then spread out over town. He asked for $400 to begin the work. Some persons already have volunteered for duty, Daugherty said.

Todd commented on the need for traffic signs on Center St. and on Clark Ave.

Council released the mayor from his verbal promise not to let a contract on construction of a boat marina on city-owned land near the floodwall along Little Yellow Creek. The Wellsville Jaycees had been interested in establishing a marina, but cannot meet the conditions necessary for obtaining the land.

The mayor asked for money for repairs to the McQueens Run storm sewer. He also urged Council to take action on putting a new roof on a city-owned building at 12th St., pointing out it could be used as a garage and the rental now being paid for city vehicles could be applied toward the cost.

The matter has been discussed before both by Council and the mayor. Council held a caucus session with the mayor on the proposal following the regular meeting.

DAUGHERTY also reported a large stone had fallen from the rear corner of City Hall, damaging a gas line on adjoining property. Repairs are needed, he said.

The mayor's report for August showed $4,964.25 collected in fines and fees.

Council appointed Fred Huston and Bill DeSenze to the Hammond Park Commission to bring the board up to the prescribed number of seven. Their names were submitted by the commission. They will succeed Richard Kevan, who has moved from the city, and Pete Amato, whose term has expired.

Henthorne reported on a claim received from a motorist who claimed the front end of his car was damaged by a hole on 3rd St.

It was agreed that such claims should be referred directly to the city's insurance firm. Henthorne said he also had received complaints of horses being housed inside the city limits. Bush said nothing can be done unless there are violations of the health codes or fire ordinances.

Reports of holes in streets and the need for gratings over storm sewer openings were reported to the mayor.

Councilman Nunzio Lomabardozzi said several old "junker" vehicles still are being parked along city streets even though Council recently passed a 48-hour tow away ordinance. The mayor said he had been turning similar reports over to the police department.

After a discussion on what action can be taken, the question was raised by Mathess as to where the police would put the cars once they were picked up since the city does not have a storage compound. Mathess said many of the vehicles do not have licenses and it might be hard to determine the owner.

COUNCIL agreed to send letters to various property owners asking them to cut weeds. If the work is not done, city crews will cut the weeds and bill the property owner, the legislators cautioned.

Councilman Meryle Kenney reported action is needed by Council to govern the city dump located off Route 39. Harry Stockdale, county sanitarian, has reported he plans to close the Yellow Creek Township dump, Kenney said, and residents then will want to use the city dump.

He said a city employe should be named to watch the dump and collect fees from outside haulers. He advised that a fence and gates be erected so the dump can be closed off at night.

Kenney said his committee will have to work out details on fees to be charged.

Atty. Delmar O'Hara spoke from the audience asking Council to consider enlarging its water supply to an area near the Springhill Cemetery. About 20 homes are fed from the line at present, but the pressure is not adequate, it was pointed out.

He suggested contacting engineers who made a survey of the water system years ago and obtaining necessary information.

It was pointed out Council had been considering this previously, along with the extension of water to the Hillcrest and Russell Heights areas.

Record 563 Killed In Holiday Traffic

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents killed 563 persons on the nation's highways during the 78-hour Labor Day weekend, a record number for the holiday period.

The previous record of deaths in traffic accidents during the final summer holiday period was 557 set in 1963. Last year, there were 531 deaths.

The National Safety Council had estimated that between 500 and 600 persons would die in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. (local time) and midnight of Labor Day.

Willie Mays' first major league hit was a home run off Warren Spahn in 1951. Fourteen years later the two became San Francisco teammates.

Heavy shoes get him nowhere fast

If he can't run quite as fast as his friends... nor as long... maybe it's because his feet are cramped. And as they grow, his problems may, too. We can help. Our experts will fit him accurately in Jumping Jacks, the shoes that allow young feet to move naturally and develop normally. From heel to toe they flex almost as easily as bare feet, yet they offer the gentle support that growing feet require. Jumping Jacks are made of unlined leather in a wide selection of graduated sizes that come in many styles and colors. They're probably the most comfortable shoes he'll ever wear. When he's in Jumping Jacks, he puts his best foot forward. He'll get places that way. And fast.

tion. Mr. MacLean was a Republican.

Mathess also is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge Associates. He is married and has three children. He will head council's street and light committee.

Joe M. Hall of 102 6th St., a Republican candidate for council-at-large, also had applied for the vacancy. These were the only two applications received.

Mathess thanked council "for putting your trust in me. I will try to do the best possible." He is an employe at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. He also is a volunteer firemen.

In other business, Council received a request from Mayor William Daugherty to grant wage increases to city employes. The mayor said there are sufficient funds in the departments that bring in revenue to provide for the increases. He said about 21 employes would be affected.

Councilman Walter Henthorne said he agreed with the mayor on the need for increases and said Council members also should be considered for a salary boost. "You tie up a lot of hours for $20 a month. We should consider a raise for the officials," he said.

The mayor said he had plans from the Ohio State Highway Department on the proposed relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville. He said he also has received a traffic survey made by the state. The mayor offered the plans and survey figures to Council, urging the legislators to form a committee to become familiar with the project to date. No action was taken.

THE MAYOR also presented a plan for hiring persons to spot traffic violators and see that they are prosecuted. He said the proposal calls for individuals to work first in the school areas and then spread out over town. He asked for $400 to begin the work. Some persons already have volunteered for duty, Daugherty said.

Todd commented on the need for traffic signs on Center St. and on Clark Ave.

Council released the mayor from his verbal promise not to let a contract on construction of a boat marina on city-owned land near the floodwall along Little Yellow Creek. The Wellsville Jaycees had been interested in establishing a marina, but cannot meet the conditions necessary for obtaining the land.

The mayor asked for money for repairs to the McQueens Run storm sewer. He also urged Council to take action on putting a new roof on a city-owned building at 12th St., pointing out it could be used as a garage and the rental now being paid for city vehicles could be applied toward the cost.

The matter has been discussed before both by Council and the mayor. Council held a caucus session with the mayor on the proposal following the regular meeting.

DAUGHERTY also reported a large stone had fallen from the rear corner of City Hall, damaging a gas line on adjoining property. Repairs are needed, he said.

The mayor's report for August showed $4,964.25 collected in fines and fees.

Council appointed Fred Huston and Bill DeSenze to the Hammond Park Commission to bring the board up to the prescribed number of seven. Their names were submitted by the commission. They will succeed Richard Kevan, who has moved from the city, and Pete Amato, whose term has expired.

Henthorne reported on a claim received from a motorist who claimed the front end of his car was damaged by a hole on 3rd St.

It was agreed that such claims should be referred directly to the city's insurance firm. Henthorne said he also had received complaints of horses being housed inside the city limits. Bush said nothing can be done unless there are violations of the health codes or fire ordinances.

Reports of holes in streets and the need for gratings over storm sewer openings were reported to the mayor.

Councilman Nunzio Lomabardozzi said several old "junker" vehicles still are being parked along city streets even though Council recently passed a 48-hour tow away ordinance. The mayor said he had been turning similar reports over to the police department.

After a discussion on what action can be taken, the question was raised by Mathess as to where the police would put the cars once they were picked up since the city does not have a storage compound. Mathess said many of the vehicles do not have licenses and it might be hard to determine the owner.

COUNCIL agreed to send letters to various property owners asking them to cut weeds. If the work is not done, city crews will cut the weeds and bill the property owner, the legislators cautioned.

Councilman Meryle Kenney reported action is needed by Council to govern the city dump located off Route 39. Harry Stockdale, county sanitarian, has reported he plans to close the Yellow Creek Township dump, Kenney said, and residents then will want to use the city dump.

He said a city employe should be named to watch the dump and collect fees from outside haulers. He advised that a fence and gates be erected so the dump can be closed off at night.

Kenney said his committee will have to work out details on fees to be charged.

Atty. Delmar O'Hara spoke from the audience asking Council to consider enlarging its water supply to an area near the Springhill Cemetery. About 20 homes are fed from the line at present, but the pressure is not adequate, it was pointed out.

He suggested contacting engineers who made a survey of the water system years ago and obtaining necessary information.

It was pointed out Council had been considering this previously, along with the extension of water to the Hillcrest and Russell Heights areas.

Tire-Making Process Described For Rotary

The intricasies of tire-making were discussed by E. C. "Pete" Shingleton when he addressed the Rotary Club at its noon luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

A native of East Liverpool, Shingleton is manager of retread tires and materials sales for the B. F. Goodrich Co. of Akron. He has been with the company since 1937 and just recently was promoted to his present position.

His topic yesterday was "Passenger Car Tire Safety."

TO DEMONSTRATE the rubber-making process, an associate, Harry Williams, mixed rubber tree latex with some chemicals, resulting in a ball of rubber in only a few seconds.

However, Shingleton pointed out, making tires is a far more difficult matter and he screened a movie to illustrate the various processes in the manufacture.

The movie traced the development of the original solid rubber tires introduced more than 60 years ago to the present-day air-filled tires with their many safety features. The artificial process for making rubber, developed during World War II when supplies from the Far East were no longer available, was described. Testing procedures, conducted under simulated actual conditions, were shown.

Following the movie, a question-and-answer session was conducted. The speaker discussed the merits of 2-ply and 4-ply tires, and the importance of retread tires on the market, noting that one retread is sold for every three new tires.

IMPROVEMENTS and innovations in tires were explained, including a radial tread, which extends from bead to bead instead of lengthwise, and a tire with steel studs inserted for winter use.

Visiting Rotarians included Dick Beatty, now residing in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; Charles Bunch of Steubenville; A. T. Knabb of Weirton, and Julius Jacobs of Midland.

Guests included Harry Aspinall of Wooster, representative of the Keister Advertising Service, and John G. Hedrick, director of the East Liverpool Area Center of Kent State University.

The invocation was given by Carl Werner.

Palestine Weighs Parking Request

EAST PALESTINE — A request for Council's support for obtaining an off - street parking lot was presented by Paul Brittain, president of the Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting of Council Tuesday night.

The city does not presently own such a lot. Brittain referred to the need for additional parking areas in the business section.

In other action, Council approved the plat of the Earl Neely Third Addition west and north of the high school, consisting of some 25 lots.

Mayor Robert Harding said there is a need for a Class B operator for the sewage disposal plant, where Vince Muraco plans to resign. The post pays $4,800 a year.

Council referred to the street committee complaints from residents of Neely Manor about street conditions.

Johnson Gets Pay Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent President Johnson to sign into law a bill permitting military personnel to get paid up to three days early when a pay period ends on a weekend or a legal holiday.

In 1874, "Boss" Tweed of New York City was convicted of fraud and sentenced to 12 years in prison.

Mr. Magoo, The Horse, Must Go, Girl's Told

No, said the Village Board of Bayville, on Long Island, Tuesday night. The board reaffirmed its previous decision that Karen Southard's brown horse is not a domestic animal and therefore can't be kept in the village.

Karen's father, Ernest S. Southard, vowed today that he'll fight on.

"I have to," he said. "After all, I promised her she could have a horse."

Southard built a stable last November in a 62-by-105-foot fenced area by his $35,000 home for Mr. Magoo, a quarter horse. Quarter horses are a breed known for their speed up to a quarter of a mile.

This brought happiness to Karen and Mr. Magoo, but not to some of the Southards' neighbors.

They complained that Mr. Magoo was a nuisance and violated a village ordinance against keeping nondomestic animals.

The board agreed Tuesday night, charging the horse causes "an odor offensive to the immediate neighbors, a disturbing collection and emission of dust in the surrounding area and a safety hazard to pedestrians in the narrow village roadways."

However, the board added that it recognizes "the affection Miss Southard has for the horse. . .and enjoins her to explore the possibility of harboring Mr. Magoo in nearby areas permitting horses."

"We are not going to put Mr. Magoo out to any boarding stable," said Southard. "He wouldn't have enough room to run around.

"We'll take our case to Nassau County Court next and to the U.S. Supreme Court if we have to," he said. "Karen is going to keep Mr. Magoo."

Double Suicide Ruled In Death Of Couple

CLEVELAND (AP) — The shooting deaths of an East Side couple were ruled double suicide by Coroner Samuel R. Gerber today.

Aza Bittinger, 49, shot himself in the right temple Saturday night after telling his 24-year-old daughter, "Mama just shot herself," police said. Bittinger's wife, Emma, 43, also had been shot in the right temple.

Councilmen Eye Fence Purchase

ROGERS — A special meeting was scheduled for Sept. 21 by Council Tuesday night to consider purchase of wire fencing for the village - owned lot along Depot St.

Two bids have been received for the fencing for the east portion of the lot, where officials plan to store supplies and materials. A third bid is expected.

Bonds and forfeitures amounted to $32.20 in August from Mayor Glenn Rhodes court, it was announced. Bills totaling $290 were paid.

Councilman Wallace Swaney and Robert Whitacre were absent.

Pennsylvania Boosts Auto Policy Rates

HARRISBURG, Pa. — A $24,000,000 annual increase in rates for automobile liability and physical damage insurance coverage was approved Tuesday by Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner Audrey R. Kelly.

Approximately 60 per cent of the insurance companies which write automobile coverage in the state will be affected. It can be expected from past experience that the other 40 per cent, which file individually, will follow soon.

While the statewide average increase for liability insurance will be 20 per cent, the increase for vehicle owners in the city of Pittsburgh will be 21.6 per cent.

The statewide average for physical damage coverage (collision and comprehensive) will be increased 15 per cent, but in the city of Pittsburgh the increase will be 24.5 per cent.

Suburban Pittsburgh rates for liability coverage will go up 10.2 per cent and, for physical damage, 16.8 per cent, slightly higher than the statewide average.

Commissioner Kelly accompanied her announcement with a condemnation of the public for its lack of interest in hearings last July which might have affected the new rate schedule.

"Public interest was practically non-existant," she said.

The principals and teachers met with their respective faculties at 11:15 a. m. at Westgate and the instructors reported to their respective buildings at 2 p.m.

Supt. Paul H. Blair said Mrs. Beth Ann Hilbert, a former teacher, has been hired as a substitute until a regular biology teacher can be obtained. The biology post had been filled last week, but school officials were stunned the following day by news of the death of the new instructor from wounds in a gun accident at his home.

The traditional coffee hour was held prior to the teachers' meeting, arranged by the public education committee of the Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the East Liverpool Teachers Association.

The Chamber members, with C. V. Hughes as chairman, served coffee and doughnuts provided by the teachers' association.

1,856 Are Enrolled In Wellsville Schools

An enrollment of 1,856 was reported when the Wellsville public schools resumed classes for the 1965-66 term this morning.

Supt. Lowell Myers said this is an increase of about 22 over the anticipated enrollment of 1,834, but down from the 1,887 enrolled at the opening last year.

Troopers confiscated 31 bottles of liquor and three slots, of 5-10- and 25-cent denominations.

Troopers entered the Club Sands at Kings Creek and arrested Marian Eureka of Weirton R.D. 1, the licensee, charging her with the possession of gambing devices and alcoholic liquor, and arrested Jean L. Cowden, the waitress, also of Weirton, charging her with the sale of alcoholic liquor. Troopers confiscated 10 bottles of liquor and one multiple-coined slot machine.

The last such previous operation by state police occurred July 13, when Cpl. C. W. Tighe and Trooper John Fulks of the Weirton barracks struck the Paddock Club located in the "Strip". The July action saw the licensee of the Paddock Club, James Fife, 45, of Weirton, arrested and various gambling equipment confiscated and subsequently destroyed.

pay 50 per cent of the bill, up to a maximum of $4,000.

The plan worked out by Council and the commissioners contemplates that the work this fall will be the first phase of an improvement project that will be completed next year. The overall cost of the work is estimated at $40,000.

Commissioners pointed out the widening, cindering and provisions for drainage would answer the most serious complaint from Shadyside residents. The residents of the neighborhood have complained that the road now is so narrow that two school buses cannot pass and that youngsters on foot must leap onto an embankment to get out of the way of passing cars, since there is no walkway.

The work contemplated this fall will provide room for buses to pass and also allow space for youngsters to walk, the officials agreed.

Shadyside delegations have appeared repeatedly before Council and the commissioners for months, asking widening of the street and a space for pedestrians.

School Supt. Paul Blair had announced earlier school buses would not travel the narrow stretch on days when the weather was considered hazardous.

Council and the commissioners also discussed the possibility of the county sharing in the cost of a State Highway Department project for resurfacing of Lisbon St., plus easing of some of the sharp curves, but no decision was reached.

The project is estimated at $200,000, with $40,000 as the city's share. Council asked the commissioners to provide half of the city's share pointing out $20,000 in city funds already has been appropriated.

Engineer George Bloomgren said if a consulting engineering firm is hired soon to prepare the plans, the field work can be accomplished in the next two months. That would mean the plans would be finished by March and the work could be undertaken next year, he said.

Commissioners said they could not pledge a contribution without consulting with County Engineer John Ursu. They explained there are many requests from throughout the county for aid in similar projects and the funds must be allocated on an equitable basis.

Swimmers coached by George Haines of the Santa Clara Swim Club have won 20 gold medals in the past two Olympic Games.

Hamiltons To Be Honored At 50th Anniversary Fete

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Hamilton will be honored for their golden wedding anniversary with an open house reception to be given by relatives and friends Sunday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock at their home, 807 17th St., Wellsville.

They were united in marriage Sept. 9, 1915, by the Rev. John C. Strubel of Lisbon. Mrs. Hamilton was the former Carolla Johnson, daughter of Hugh and Matilda Govey Johnson of Madison Township. Her husband was the son of Dr. George and Mrs. Nettie Gilkinson Hamilton of Millport, Ohio.

They began housekeeping in the present home which was newly built 50 years ago and are the only "first settlers" still living on the street.

Mrs. Hamilton was formerly employed as a bookkeeper with the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. Her husband was an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., serving as round-house foreman. He retired in 1940 after serving 40 years with the company.

The Hamiltons are active members of the Riverside Presbyterian Church of Wellsville, with Mrs. Hamilton still assuming the office of president of the Cradle Roll Department.

They continue correspondence with their many friends.

Receiving with them will be Mrs. Hamilton's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McMillen of Lisbon; an only niece, Miss Janet McGarry of Cleveland, and a nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. John McMillen and son, John, and daughter, Joyce, of Canfield.

Hostesses for the affair will be Mrs. James Wilson, Mrs. Joe Rawlings, Mrs. Don Salsberry and Mrs. Ernest Helfrich.

CWA Head Assisting In Ohio Bell Talks

CLEVELAND (AP) — James A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, is in Cleveland to help in Ohio Bell Telephone negotiations which he says will set a pattern for a million telephone industry employes.

Beirne came here Tuesday to participate in negotiations that have been under way about a week under the second wage reopening clause in a three-year contract. The reopener expires Sept. 18, three days after a deadline with Michigan Bell.

Romulus founded Rome in 753 B.C., according to legend.

Murray

having won the Democratic nomination in the May primary. Should he accept the presidency, his service would not extend beyond Dec. 31. While in the president's chair, he still would be a candidate for a new term in the First Ward.

The politics of the new Council member will be determined by the manner in which he is appointed. Since six of Council's members are Democrats, it is a foregone conclusion that the new First Ward member would be of that party if Council has the choice.

But Willshaw is a Republican and if he is given the right to name the new councilman, the First Ward would be represented by a GOP member.

"I prefer to remain in my present position and continue to serve the people of the First Ward," Murray commented last night. "I feel I have a contract with the people of the First Ward because they elected me to a two-year term. I want to fulfill that contract if at all possible."

On prior occasions when a vacancy occurred in the presidency, Council was told that the right of appointment fell to the mayor, provided he acted within 30 days. If no president was named by the mayor within 30 days, the right of naming the successor fell to Council.

Approximately four years ago, Robert Owen was elected Council president while serving as safety - service director. He served at one meeting, then resigned. Bert H. Goodballet, then mayor, appointed Charles Edwards, an East End barber and a former president, as his successor.

Less than two years later, Edwards resigned the post to move to California. Goodballet then named Willshaw, who had been elected to the post a short time earlier in the general election.

Willshaw moved up to replace Merrill D. Hall, who quit the mayor's office, effective Sept. 1. Willshaw won the GOP nomination for mayor in May after Hall decided not to seek a new term. Meanwhile, Republicans nominated Ernest A. Lowe for the presidency and Democrats picked Arch H. Smith. They will run against each other in the general election.

Hearing Set Friday

LISBON — A hearing has been set for Friday in the Southwest Area County Court of Judge J. L. MacDonald for James Petties of Pitsburgh on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Petties was picked up in Wellsville early Tuesday by police after the stabbing of May Harbor, 66, of 1778 Buckeye Ave.

Ross Expects Improvement From Beaver Local Squad

The Review Sports
WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1965 PAGE 10

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The Beaver Local football camp has taken on a different atmosphere and improvement on a 2-8 record of last season is expected from the 1965 squad.

Don Ross, at 25, the youngest head coach in the district, has taken over the reigns at Beaver Local replacing Ed Stevens, who resigned to become an assistant coach at Louisville High School.

HIT HARD by injuries and starting the season with a small number in the ranks, the Beavers struggled through a losing 1964 campaign. When the season ended only about 20 players remained on the squad.

This season the number has more than doubled and 44 boys make up the 1965 squad.

Ross is first to admit that the "morale and spirit on the practice field is high" which is an encouraging note to the new mentor who expects improvement.

LOOKING through his ranks, Ross pointed out "we have a lot of boys that never played football before and of the 44 boys only one is a freshman."

When the first call was issued, the jobs at Beaver Local were wide open with only five regulars returning.

"Alhtough the squad wasn't large last season, the boys who did play gained a lot of experience and most of them had to play both ways," Ross added.

Those who saw regular duty last season include four linemen and one back. Ross is high on Dale Moore, a regular guard in '64.

The coaching staff feels Moore could become one of the top linemen in the district this season. He'll play both ways and is considered the team leader.

ANOTHER 200-pounder is Allen Copestick, who weighed in at 220. The senior tackle is beginning his third year as a regular and will see action both ways.

The lone returnee in the backfield is Arnie McLaughlin, a 170-pound senior, who was a regular halfback until late in the season when injuries to the first and second team quarterbacks put McLaughlin at the signal calling spot.

—:—

McLAUGHLIN is expected to start at quarterback but is being pressed by Dennis Klembara, a 170 - pound sophomore. "Klembara is consistent and a fair runner," Ross said.

The biggest surprise, so far among some of the new upperclassmen who are trying football for the first time, is Larry Roberts. A spring man in track and holder of the school's shot put record, Roberts, who weighs in at about 180, shows good speed and in the opinion of the Beaver coaching staff could develop into one of the better players to come out of Beaver Local.

ROSS pointed out that "Roberts came out a sophomore but missed last season. He must overcome the inexperience."

Another first year man is Jeff Hall, 170-pound junior halfback. Hall missed his sophomore season but is currently in the running for the starting job.

Jeff Lane, a 155 - pound junior, lettered last year as a member of the defensive team. He is being tried at quarterback and also has played some at fullback.

Other halfback candidates include Andy Hall, 170-pound junior, Harry Matheny, 185-pound junior, Rich Dunn, 160 - pound junior and Rick Dieringer, 160-pound senior.

LOOKING over the forward wall, Dan Wade, a 200 - pound senior, will probably start at tackle. "Wade played as a sophomore but didn't play last season. I feel his determination will overcome the lack of experience," Ross said.

Dick Wright, is another first year man, and the 185 - pound senior is after a starting berth at end. "He is a keen competitor and we look for him to develop fast," Ross added.

Allen Moore, a 215-pound junior, won a letter last season and is being groomed for the center spot. He was used mostly on defense as a sophomore.

Chicago Lets Big One Get Away In Losing To Tribe

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox let the big one get away from them Tuesday night in a display of pitching futility which is rare for Al Lopez' corps.

The White Sox, who face the league-leading Minnesota Twins for the final time this season in a two-game set beginning tonight, scored four runs in the first inning but before the game was over the Cleveland Indians had carved out a 9-5 triumph.

The loss dropped the Sox five games behind the Twins.

Ordinarily, the White Sox can win a pair of games with four runs and usually Lopez would be doing a slow burn over blowing such a lead.

"Sure it was a big game for us," said Lopez. "They're all big and all losses are hard to take. But we simply didn't have the pitching and when you don't have the pitching any lead can be overcome.

"I used seven pitchers in the doubleheader Monday," said Lopez. "It was obvious (Juan) Pizarro didn't have it. I went for Tommy John hoping he'd give me a couple of good innings before going for the knuckleballers. But John didn't have it, either.

"We have to beat the Twins twice now but even if we had beaten Cleveland we still would have to win twice from Minnesota," he added.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore swept New York 4-2 and 9-5 and Detroit trimmed Boston 5-3.

The loss was tough to take for the White Sox in one respect — utility infielder Chico Samon. It was Salmon's homer with the bases-loaded that capped a five-run inning and pushed the Tribe ahead to stay.

Salmon came into the game with a .242 average. He had hit two previous home runs and had only six runs-batted-in. All three of his homers and nine of his 10 RBI have come at the expense of the White Sox.

It looked as if the Sox were going to pull within four games of Minnesota when they scored four times in the first inning as Moose Skowron broke an 0-for-20 slump with a run-scoring single. The Moose also contributed his 17th homer in the third inning to put Chicago ahead 5-1.

Cleveland, however, lashed out 17 hits — four by Rocky Colavito and three each by Chuck Hinton and Leon Wagner.

The Yankees' double loss to Baltimore extended their losing streak to seven, their longest since 1953, and put them within one loss or one Minnesota victory of a race.

The Orioes ran their winning string to seven, winning the opener behind Sam Bowens' two-run homer and taking the nightcap as Charley Lau drove in three runs with a double and a single and Boog Powell clouted a two-run homer.

Detroit snapped Boston's four-game winning streak, breaking a 3-3 tie in the seventh on John Sullivan's single and Ray Oyler's double. Norm Cash hit a two-run homer for the Tigers. Boston's Billy Monbouquette suffered his 18th defeat against eight victories.

NEW YORK (AP) — The magic number is one for the New York Yankees and, for the first time in six years, they would like to forget all about it.

The extension of a seven-game losing streak — their longest in 12 seasons — against Washington tonight or a Minnesota victory at Chicago will mathematically end the Yankees' futile bid for a record sixth straight American League pennant.

Now 20½ games behind the front-running Twins, New York is headed for its worst finish since 1925, when the club wound up seventh in an eight-team league, 27 games off the pace.

Hart Drives In All Frisco Runs

Giants Take Lead For First Time, Trim Dodgers, 3-1; Pirates Lose

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers wish the Giants had left their Hart in San Francisco.

They had to leave Juan Marichal there, but they brought Jim Hart with them and as a result, the Dodgers are out of first place in the National League for only the 18th day this season.

Hart drove in all of the runs with a single and a homer Tuesday night as the Giants jumped into the lead for the first time by trimming Los Angeles 3-1.

The victory, their fourth straight, put the Giants two percentage points ahead of the Dodgers, one-half game ahead of Cincinnati, one in front of Milwaukee and four ahead of Pittsburgh.

The triumph also gave them a sweep of the two-game series, a sweep accomplished without the help of 20-game winner Juan Marichal, who was banned from Los Angeles because of his bat-swinging incident with Dodger catcher John Roseboro.

The two-day ban, in effect, extended Marichal's eight-day suspension over the incident to 10, which puts him nine days ahead of Hart.

The third baseman-left fielder was hit with a one-day suspension July 25 by Giants' Manager Herman Franks for breaking training regulations. Franks at first said the suspension was indefinite but reinstated Hart after he went to the manager the next day and apologized.

Since then Hart has been greatly responsible for pushing the Giants to the top. In 90 games before the suspension, he batted .281 with nine homers and 47 runs batted in. But in just 44 games since, he is hitting .323 while slamming 12 homers and driving in 36 runs.

The Dodgers also felt Hart's bat Monday as he hit a two-run homer that tied the game 5-5. The Giants went on to win 7-6 in 12 innings.

Los Angeles is idle today while the Giants play Houston.

Hart's first-inning single, following singles by Jesus Alou and Willie Mays, put the Giants ahead 1-0. The Dodgers tied it against Bob Shaw in the third on doubles by Wes Parker and Roseboro.

Then, in the fifth, Claude Osteen walked Mays, and Hart connected for his 21st home run into the center field pavilion. Masanori Murakami relieved Shaw with one on and two out in the eighth and set down the Dodgers the rest of the way.

Sammy Ellis gained his 18th victory against eight defeats, limiting the Pirates to three hits and striking out 10. The Reds put the game away with four runs in the fourth inning, two on Frank Robinson's double and the last on John Edwards' homer. Don Cardwell started his own downfall by hitting Vada Pinson with a pitch.

Ross Expects Improvement From Beaver Local Squad

The Review Sports
WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1965 PAGE 10

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The Beaver Local football camp has taken on a different atmosphere and improvement on a 2-8 record of last season is expected from the 1965 squad.

Don Ross, at 25, the youngest head coach in the district, has taken over the reigns at Beaver Local replacing Ed Stevens, who resigned to become an assistant coach at Louisville High School.

HIT HARD by injuries and starting the season with a small number in the ranks, the Beavers struggled through a losing 1964 campaign. When the season ended only about 20 players remained on the squad.

This season the number has more than doubled and 44 boys make up the 1965 squad.

Ross is first to admit that the "morale and spirit on the practice field is high" which is an encouraging note to the new mentor who expects improvement.

LOOKING through his ranks, Ross pointed out "we have a lot of boys that never played football before and of the 44 boys only one is a freshman."

When the first call was issued, the jobs at Beaver Local were wide open with only five regulars returning.

"Alhtough the squad wasn't large last season, the boys who did play gained a lot of experience and most of them had to play both ways," Ross added.

Those who saw regular duty last season include four linemen and one back. Ross is high on Dale Moore, a regular guard in '64.

The coaching staff feels Moore could become one of the top linemen in the district this season. He'll play both ways and is considered the team leader.

ANOTHER 200-pounder is Allen Copestick, who weighed in at 220. The senior tackle is beginning his third year as a regular and will see action both ways.

The lone returnee in the backfield is Arnie McLaughlin, a 170-pound senior, who was a regular halfback until late in the season when injuries to the first and second team quarterbacks put McLaughlin at the signal calling spot.

—:—

McLAUGHLIN is expected to start at quarterback but is being pressed by Dennis Klembara, a 170 - pound sophomore. "Klembara is consistent and a fair runner," Ross said.

The biggest surprise, so far among some of the new upperclassmen who are trying football for the first time, is Larry Roberts. A spring man in track and holder of the school's shot put record, Roberts, who weighs in at about 180, shows good speed and in the opinion of the Beaver coaching staff could develop into one of the better players to come out of Beaver Local.

ROSS pointed out that "Roberts came out a sophomore but missed last season. He must overcome the inexperience."

Another first year man is Jeff Hall, 170-pound junior halfback. Hall missed his sophomore season but is currently in the running for the starting job.

Jeff Lane, a 155 - pound junior, lettered last year as a member of the defensive team. He is being tried at quarterback and also has played some at fullback.

Other halfback candidates include Andy Hall, 170-pound junior, Harry Matheny, 185-pound junior, Rich Dunn, 160 - pound junior and Rick Dieringer, 160-pound senior.

LOOKING over the forward wall, Dan Wade, a 200 - pound senior, will probably start at tackle. "Wade played as a sophomore but didn't play last season. I feel his determination will overcome the lack of experience," Ross said.

Dick Wright, is another first year man, and the 185 - pound senior is after a starting berth at end. "He is a keen competitor and we look for him to develop fast," Ross added.

Allen Moore, a 215-pound junior, won a letter last season and is being groomed for the center spot. He was used mostly on defense as a sophomore.

Banker Recalls Beginning Of Pro Football In Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — As seven new inductees into the National Professional Football Hall of Fame prepare for the third annual induction Sunday, a 76-year-old banker recalled when pro football salaries were $2,500 a season and championship game gates were $24,000.

Lester Higgins, vice president of Citizens Savings Bank, talked Tuesday about the meeting called by his brother - in - law, Ralph Hay, which was the beginning of the first organized professional football league formed here.

Higgins served as treasurer of the Canton Bulldogs, the professional football team owned by Hay, an automobile dealer.

"The first league meeting was held in Ralph's salesroom and we sat on the running boards of the cars as Ralph talked. George Halas (owner of the Chicago Bears and a member of the Hall of Fame) was among those present," Higgins said.

Higgins said he is looking forward to seeing his old friend Guy Chamberlin, player-coach on the Canton team during its undefeated 1922 and 1923 seasons. Chamberlin is to be among those inducted into the Hall of Fame.

Paul E. Brown, former Massillon High School and Cleveland Browns coach, will come in from California for his induction.

Brown will present a life-size bust to Otto Graham, another inductee. Graham was quarterback for Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns during the team's first 10 years.

The enshrinement will be followed by an exhibition game between the Washington Redskins and the Detroit Lions in adjacent Fawcett Stadium.

Others to be enshrined Sunday are Bob Waterfield, Sid Luckman, Steve Van Buren, Dan Fortmann and Paddy Driscoll.

The first ace ever shot in the annual Palo Alto hole - in - one tournament came 18 years ago when a shot by Del Boccingnone struck a backstop 30 feet beyond the pin and rebounded into the hole.

Huarte Is Placed On Waiver List But He'll Remain With New York

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

But it's a good bet that the Heisman Trophy winner hasn't made his last bid for the New York Jets' signal-calling job.

Huarte, signed by Jets' owner Werblin for approximately $200,000 after his brilliant senior year at Notre Dame, was one of six players put on waivers by the American Football League club in Tuesday's final preseason roster cutdown.

There was little doubt, however, that Huarte — who failed to beat out either fellow rookie Joe ($400,000) Namath or second-year man Mike Taliaferro for a spot on the varsity — would remain on the Jets payroll despite his supposed availability today for the waiver price of $100.

Should any of the other seven AFL clubs be willing to take on his salary by claiming him, the Jets probably will remove his name from the waiver list and restore him to their roster, now one below the league limit of 38.

If the waivers clear, Huarte will go on the Jets' taxi squad and be eligible for promotion after two weeks.

Former stars Dick (Night Train) Lane and Clarence Peaks had less security than Huarte after being cut by National Football League teams in that league's next-to-last squad reductions.

Lane, a 13-year pro, was released by the Detroit Lions while Peaks, a top fullback for eight seasons, was cut by the Pittsburgh Steelers as NFL clubs reached the 43-player level, three over the limit for season openers in two weeks.

Among the other Jets cut loose were rookie halfback Bob Schweikert, who also had received a sizeable bonus, and defensive tackle Gordy Holz, a 1964 regular.

The AFL champion Buffalo Bills asked waivers on seven players, including tackle Jim Davidson and linebacker Al Atkinson, their Nos. 1 and 3 draft picks. The Jets immediately claimed Davidson and the Ohio State alumnus' name was withdrawn and placed on the Buffalo injured list.

Denver cut lend-lease quarterback Jacky Lee, obtained last season from Houston on condition that he be returned after this season. The Broncos also released five-year defensive back Jim McMillan.

Running back Sid Blanks, a rookie sensation with Houston last season, went on the injured reserve list. He is recovering from knee surgery and will be ineligible for the Oilers' first four league games.

Cleveland asked waivers on Archie Roberts, the former Columbia passing wizard. The Browns, who are putting Roberts through medical school, are counting on the young quarterback going unclaimed.

The New York Giants placed two injured veterans, defensive tackle John LoVetere and linebacker-center Mickey Walker, on the waiver list. If they are not picked up by another club, they'll go on the Giants' disabled list for at least four games.

Banker Recalls Beginning Of Pro Football In Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — As seven new inductees into the National Professional Football Hall of Fame prepare for the third annual induction Sunday, a 76-year-old banker recalled when pro football salaries were $2,500 a season and championship game gates were $24,000.

Lester Higgins, vice president of Citizens Savings Bank, talked Tuesday about the meeting called by his brother - in - law, Ralph Hay, which was the beginning of the first organized professional football league formed here.

Higgins served as treasurer of the Canton Bulldogs, the professional football team owned by Hay, an automobile dealer.

"The first league meeting was held in Ralph's salesroom and we sat on the running boards of the cars as Ralph talked. George Halas (owner of the Chicago Bears and a member of the Hall of Fame) was among those present," Higgins said.

Higgins said he is looking forward to seeing his old friend Guy Chamberlin, player-coach on the Canton team during its undefeated 1922 and 1923 seasons. Chamberlin is to be among those inducted into the Hall of Fame.

Paul E. Brown, former Massillon High School and Cleveland Browns coach, will come in from California for his induction.

Brown will present a life-size bust to Otto Graham, another inductee. Graham was quarterback for Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns during the team's first 10 years.

The enshrinement will be followed by an exhibition game between the Washington Redskins and the Detroit Lions in adjacent Fawcett Stadium.

Others to be enshrined Sunday are Bob Waterfield, Sid Luckman, Steve Van Buren, Dan Fortmann and Paddy Driscoll.

The first ace ever shot in the annual Palo Alto hole - in - one tournament came 18 years ago when a shot by Del Boccingnone struck a backstop 30 feet beyond the pin and rebounded into the hole.

Headed For Jets Taxi Squad

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

But it's a good bet that the Heisman Trophy winner hasn't made his last bid for the New York Jets' signal-calling job.

Huarte, signed by Jets' owner Werblin for approximately $200,000 after his brilliant senior year at Notre Dame, was one of six players put on waivers by the American Football League club in Tuesday's final preseason roster cutdown.

There was little doubt, however, that Huarte — who failed to beat out either fellow rookie Joe ($400,000) Namath or second-year man Mike Taliaferro for a spot on the varsity — would remain on the Jets payroll despite his supposed availability today for the waiver price of $100.

Should any of the other seven AFL clubs be willing to take on his salary by claiming him, the Jets probably will remove his name from the waiver list and restore him to their roster, now one below the league limit of 38.

If the waivers clear, Huarte will go on the Jets' taxi squad and be eligible for promotion after two weeks.

Former stars Dick (Night Train) Lane and Clarence Peaks had less security than Huarte after being cut by National Football League teams in that league's next-to-last squad reductions.

Lane, a 13-year pro, was released by the Detroit Lions while Peaks, a top fullback for eight seasons, was cut by the Pittsburgh Steelers as NFL clubs reached the 43-player level, three over the limit for season openers in two weeks.

Among the other Jets cut loose were rookie halfback Bob Schweikert, who also had received a sizeable bonus, and defensive tackle Gordy Holz, a 1964 regular.

The AFL champion Buffalo Bills asked waivers on seven players, including tackle Jim Davidson and linebacker Al Atkinson, their Nos. 1 and 3 draft picks. The Jets immediately claimed Davidson and the Ohio State alumnus' name was withdrawn and placed on the Buffalo injured list.

Denver cut lend-lease quarterback Jacky Lee, obtained last season from Houston on condition that he be returned after this season. The Broncos also released five-year defensive back Jim McMillan.

Running back Sid Blanks, a rookie sensation with Houston last season, went on the injured reserve list. He is recovering from knee surgery and will be ineligible for the Oilers' first four league games.

Cleveland asked waivers on Archie Roberts, the former Columbia passing wizard. The Browns, who are putting Roberts through medical school, are counting on the young quarterback going unclaimed.

The New York Giants placed two injured veterans, defensive tackle John LoVetere and linebacker-center Mickey Walker, on the waiver list. If they are not picked up by another club, they'll go on the Giants' disabled list for at least four games.

But No Rose Bowl Trip

Elliott's Wolverines Eye 2nd Straight Big 10 Title

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Bump Elliott has an excellent chance to improve over Pete Elliott in the Big Ten's illustrious brother coaching act this football season.

All Bump has to do is direct his highly rated Michigan Wolverines to the first conference championship repeat in a decade--an acid test.

Pete led Illinois to the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl conquest in the 1963 season.

But Pete's heralded holdover Illini crew succumbed to a post-Rose Bowl jinx last season to finish fourth while brother Bump's Wolverines wept the Big Ten and Rose Bowl crowns.

Now Bump must wrestle an identical problem—shooting for the Big Ten title minus Rose Bowl incentive with a Michigan squad tabbed the team to beat in the conference.

Not since Ohio State in 1954-1955 has a Big Ten champion gone to the Rose Bowl and delivered a title the following year.

"I don't think Rose Bowl incentive is a factor in our club's attitude," said Elliott. "Our club wants to win every game and repeat as league champion.

He said firebrands in the 1965 campaign are linebacker - captain Tom Cecchini; brilliant Bill Yearby, 235 - pound defensive tackle; offensive end Steve Smith and tackle Tom Mack, both 230-pounders; and quarterback Dick Vidmer, inexperienced but a "fine field general."

Vidmer holds the key to Michigan's offensve success as replacement to graduated Bob Timberlake, last year's hard-running bellwether.

Vidmer, as a sophomore, was running neck-to-neck in competition with Timberlake early last fall until he suffered a broken leg which sidelined him for the season.

Michigan's running attack will be as good or better than last season with two superb halfbacks in Jim Detwiler and Carl Ward and a smashing letterman, Dave Fisher, at fullback.

Defensively, the Wolverines should bristle with seven regulars back from last year's unit. The group includes 230 - pound tackle Paul Johnson, a full-blooded Chippewa Indian; and defensive backs Rick Volk and Rick Sygar, both adept offensive players.

2 Teams Tie In Amateur Play At Club

Two teams ended in a deadlock for honors in the mixed amateur-amateur contest played Monday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

A team of W. B. Laughlin, Bob Kelly, Mrs. William Pickin and Sally Hall recorded 29-34-63 to tie with William Pickin Jr., Gordon Weese, Mrs. Robert Patterson and Mrs. R. B. Bernstorf who fired 32-31-63.

Next in line was a team of W. L. Smith, J. N. Porter, Mrs. Norm Nicely and Mrs. J. M. Koos with 31-33-64.

Smith Tops Crable For Putting Title

In the putting championship under the lights Saturday at the Country Club, Don E. Smith emerged the champion by defeating Rick Crable for the men's title.

In the ladies division, Mrs. Gordon Weese won the title by defeating Mrs. Andrew Petrick in the finals. Mrs. Robert Wells won the second division by defeating Mrs. A. J. Cloran.

Jordan Records Victory In Match Play Contest

Jim Jordan finished seven up to win Monday's match play vs. par contest, one of several events on a crowded schedule over the weekend at the Country Club.

J. T. Smith finished second with five up while R. J. Clark, Dr. R. J. Kinsey, M. W. Thompson and Don Burbick were two up.

The second division went to J. M. Roberts at one down and Paul Davis was two down.

A team of Dr. Frank Bragg and Dr. J. J. Laneve scored 47 points to take the par-birdie-eagle contest Sunday while R. J. Clark and Dr. W. L. McCutcheon were second with 40. Grant Stover and Dick Forzano teamed for 49 points to win the second division.

Norman Ankrim came home first in the selective nine hole event on Saturday with 30. William Pickin, Bill McNutt and R. T. McDaniel tied for second with 31 while J. T. Smith and Dr. Frank Bragg finished with 32's.

The second division went to Paul Tobin with 29 and Lawton Howell recorded 31.

Mrs. Patterson Wins Club Title Over Mrs. Pickin

Mrs. Robert Patterson captured the Ladies Club Championship Saturday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Mrs. Patterson, winner of the July Cup event, defeated defending champion Mrs. William Pickin, 2-1, for the title.

The Ladies final golf event which will mark the closing of ladies golf for the season has been rescheduled for Saturday at 9 a. m.

Somerset, an $80,000 Swaps colt purchased by Anthony Imbesi's Briardale Farm at the Keeneland, Ky., Sales last summer, is working out at the Atlantic City, N. J., track.

Jack Picked To Capture World Series

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The English bookmakers are quoting even money on Jack Nicklaus to win the World Series of Golf this weekend. If he does, it'll be a great comeback on a par 70 course that stymied him last month.

Cyril Stein, managing director of Ladbroke's, largest bookmaking house in England where betting establishments are legal, quotes Nicklaus as the best bet.

Behind Nicklaus are U.S. Open champ Gary Player of South Africa at 6 to 4, British Open titlist Peter Thomson of Australia at 8 to 1 and Texan Dave Marr, PGA champ, at 10 to 1.

The $77,500 World Series is for only the winners of the four major tournaments. They'll compete in 36 holes over the Firestone Country Club's 7,165-yards.

At this same course last month, Nicklaus had a 23-over-par 303 for 72 holes. But he has had great success at Firestone, shooting par or better while winning two previous World Series events.

The quartet will shoot 18 holes each Saturday and Sunday. The final six holes of each round will be televised (NBC) in color from 4 to 5:30 p.m., EST.

Exactly 30 years to the day after the Giants' Carl Hubbell blanked St. Louis 1-0 in 18 innings, San Francisco's Juan Marichal beat Milwaukee 1-0 in 16 — on July 2, 1963.

Pasarell Eyed For Davis Team After Top Effort

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Charlie Pasarell is in, Cliff Richey is out and Dennis Ralston is the question mark of United States Davis Cup tennis plans for 1966.

George MacCall of Los Angeles, who has been all but formally tapped for another year as Davis Cup team captain, said Pasarell could force himself into consideration with a continued good showing in the tournament.

Pasarell, upset winner Sunday over second-seeded Fred Stolle of Australia, plays Keith Carpenter of Canada in the round of 16 today. His next strong opponent would be Rafael Osuna of Mexico possibly in the semifinals. Osunda rallied Tuesday to beat Herb FitzGibbon of Garden City, N.Y., 7-9, 6-6, 6-2, 12-10.

MacCall plans to send a squad consisting of Frank Froehling, Marty Riessen, Clark Graebner and Arthur Ashe to Australia for the grass court circuit and the Australian Championships there this winter.

"I'd like for Pasarell to be included but he is still in school," MacCall said. "Ralston also plans to return to the University of Southern California."

Ralston, criticized for his losses in Spain in the recent Davis Cup interzone final, personally may withdraw his name from consideration. He was piqued at MacCall's remark that he couldn't win big matches and he has said he may go into semiretirement.

As for Richey, his father has said the boy will never play on a Davis Cup team as long as MacCall is captain.

Emerson is the overwhelming favorite to come through in the men's division of the Nationals here, while Australia's Margaret Smith and Brazil's Maria Bueno probably will have a dogfight for the women's crown.

Emerson played Pierre Barthes of France in the fourth round today. Featured matches send Ralston against Ron Holmberg, who put out Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli 6-3, 6-3, 7-5; Manuel Santana of Spain against Marty Riessen and young Ashe against Brazil's Thomas Koch.

Miss Smith, who erased Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco 6-0, 6-3, played Justina Bricka of St. Louis, upset winner over Britain's Virginia Wade 6-2, 6-3. Miss Bueno faced Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis.

America's top woman player, Nancy Richey, who won over Peachy Kellmeyer of Charleston, W. Va., 6-3, 6-0 played Tory Ann Fretz of Los Angeles.

Beavers

move into the regular center job.

Ross, former co-captain and center at the University of Cincinnati, will have his work cut out early as he sends his Beavers against East Liverpool Saturday night at Patterson Field.

Assisting Ross this season is Dick Parsons, former Chester High grid great, along with Jim Agich of Aliquippa, a new member of the staff and Larry Knight, who will be handling the freshmen squad.

Sept. 18—Leetonia, home

Oct. 15—East Palestine, away

The $77,500 World Series is for only the winners of the four major tournaments. They'll compete in 36 holes over the Firestone Country Club's 7,165-yards.

At this same course last month, Nicklaus had a 23-over-par 303 for 72 holes. But he has had great success at Firestone, shooting par or better while winning two previous World Series events.

The quartet will shoot 18 holes each Saturday and Sunday. The final six holes of each round will be televised (NBC) in color from 4 to 5:30 p.m., EST.

Exactly 30 years to the day after the Giants' Carl Hubbell blanked St. Louis 1-0 in 18 innings, San Francisco's Juan Marichal beat Milwaukee 1-0 in 16 — on July 2, 1963.

Pasarell Eyed For Davis Team After Top Effort

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Charlie Pasarell is in, Cliff Richey is out and Dennis Ralston is the question mark of United States Davis Cup tennis plans for 1966.

George MacCall of Los Angeles, who has been all but formally tapped for another year as Davis Cup team captain, said Pasarell could force himself into consideration with a continued good showing in the tournament.

Pasarell, upset winner Sunday over second-seeded Fred Stolle of Australia, plays Keith Carpenter of Canada in the round of 16 today. His next strong opponent would be Rafael Osuna of Mexico possibly in the semifinals. Osunda rallied Tuesday to beat Herb FitzGibbon of Garden City, N.Y., 7-9, 6-6, 6-2, 12-10.

MacCall plans to send a squad consisting of Frank Froehling, Marty Riessen, Clark Graebner and Arthur Ashe to Australia for the grass court circuit and the Australian Championships there this winter.

"I'd like for Pasarell to be included but he is still in school," MacCall said. "Ralston also plans to return to the University of Southern California."

Ralston, criticized for his losses in Spain in the recent Davis Cup interzone final, personally may withdraw his name from consideration. He was piqued at MacCall's remark that he couldn't win big matches and he has said he may go into semiretirement.

As for Richey, his father has said the boy will never play on a Davis Cup team as long as MacCall is captain.

Emerson is the overwhelming favorite to come through in the men's division of the Nationals here, while Australia's Margaret Smith and Brazil's Maria Bueno probably will have a dogfight for the women's crown.

Emerson played Pierre Barthes of France in the fourth round today. Featured matches send Ralston against Ron Holmberg, who put out Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli 6-3, 6-3, 7-5; Manuel Santana of Spain against Marty Riessen and young Ashe against Brazil's Thomas Koch.

Miss Smith, who erased Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco 6-0, 6-3, played Justina Bricka of St. Louis, upset winner over Britain's Virginia Wade 6-2, 6-3. Miss Bueno faced Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis.

America's top woman player, Nancy Richey, who won over Peachy Kellmeyer of Charleston, W. Va., 6-3, 6-0 played Tory Ann Fretz of Los Angeles.

Ross, former co-captain and center at the University of Cincinnati, will have his work cut out early as he sends his Beavers against East Liverpool Saturday night at Patterson Field.

Sept. 18—Leetonia, home
Sept. 24—Springfield (Jeff) away
Oct. 9—United, away
Oct. 15—East Palestine, away

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Sammy Ellis, Cincinnati, pitched a three-hitter for his 18th victory against eight defeats as the Reds whipped Pittsburgh 5-0.

BATTING — Jim Hart, San Francisco, drove in all three runs with a single and a homer as the Giants moved into first place in the National League for the first time this season by defeating the Dodgers 3-1.

When Don Larsen pitched his perfect World Series game for the 1956 Yankees, Dale Mitchell was the last batter. He took a called third strike.

Chemistry Used As An Example

What Knowledge Explosion Means

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — This is what the knowledge explosion is, and what it means:

"If you started at the first of the year to read everything new in chemistry as it came out," says Dr. Laurence Strong, "by the end of the year you'd be 10 years behind."

It is because of this, and because as much has been learned about chemistry in the past 10 to 13 years as was ever learned before, that many of today's high school pupils are studying a "new chemistry" as part of a curricula revolution in U.S. education.

STRONG, who has been head of the chemistry department at Earlham (Ind.) College here since 1952, said, it all started in 1957 at a meeting of high school and college chemistry teachers at Reed College in Portland, Ore.

"The high school teachers complained that what they were teaching didn't suit them, and was not really relative to modern - day chemistry. For instance, one single textbook dominated the high school chemistry field—it gave the teachers little choice," he said.

"I suggested a way out might be to organize a course around a key idea that chemists think significant. I further suggested that 'chemical bond' was such an idea.

"This is the idea that atoms are held together by forces to produce compounds. There are other concepts that could have been used.

"The high school teachers were interested, and asked us to do something about it. So we did."

The chemistry course which evolved from that Portland conference is known as Chemical Bond Approach, often referred to as "Chem-Bond" or simply "CBA."

It was the first of two "new" chemistry courses, but it is not the most popular.

That honor goes to the Chemical Education Materials Study, known as "Chem-Study," developed at Harvey Mudd College, Claremont, Calif., and the University of California at Berkeley.

ACCORDING to U.S. Office of Education figures, more than a million high school juniors study chemistry each year. Of these, about 50,000 are studying Chem-Bond, and about 250,000 are using Chem-Study materials.

Strong said the National Science Foundation wasn't particularly interested in the idea of a new chemistry course when it was first suggested to it in 1957. Two years later, however, the foundation sponsored a writing conference at which 19 high school and college chemistry teachers got together to write the first draft of the Chem-Bond materials.

Those materials were tried out in the schools and revised several times before commercial publication started in January this year.

"Unfortunately," Strong said, "some high schools are still using our earlier materials."

How is it working out?

"We've followed some of our pupils from the trial period into college chemistry," Strong replied. "They seemed to do a little better; there were fewer that failed, more who got high grades."

Strong voiced an opinion shared with many scientists in different disciplines:

"If the elementary school science programs make a real difference in what the pupils bring to the high schools, then the high school science programs must be re-thought and revised.

"It's the elementary science program that will make the next big difference."

Fair's Pavilion Will Be Returned By West Virginia

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP) — Gov. Hulett Smith said here Tuesday that the West Virginia pavilion at the New York World's Fair definitely will be brought back to the state.

Smith made the announcement during a guest appearance on a national radio show being tapped at the Greenbrier.

"The West Virginia pavilion was originally intended as a museum," he said. "We will bring back the pavilion to West Virginia and reconstruct it as a showplace for all those people who visit our state."

However, he said the exact site has not been chosen for the $1.1 million structure. The building represented the state at the fair the last two summers.

Smith said the cost of dismantling the building and transporting it to the state will be about $50,000. He did not say who will put up the money.

Several organizations have been attempting to bring the building back to West Virginia. Julius Singleton, pavilion director, said just two weeks ago the structure probably would be sold to anyone willing to pay the expenses for having it moved off the fair grounds.

Band's Uniforms Are Distributed At Beaver Local

New band uniforms, with the exception of the hats which are due later this month, have been distributed to members of the Beaver Local High School band in preparation for the first football game of the season against East Liverpool Saturday night at Patterson Field.

The announcement was made Tuesday night during the meeting of the Beaver Local Band Parents.

Plans were made for the tag day Sept. 25 in which junior and senior band members and choir members will participate.

During the business session, Mrs. Sara Purton, who presided in the absence of Joe Catigani, president, called on those who have pledged to the uniform fund to send in their money as quickly as possible so the bill may be paid.

It was announced that an electric range has been donated for the refreshment stand by Mr. Sigler.

The next meeting will be Oct. 5.

When Terry's Secret won the 1965 running of the Sunset Handicap at Hollywood Park in Inglewood, Calif., he became the first 3-year-old to win the race since 1950 when Hill Prince triumphed.

2 New Issues Due For Vote

Two more questions and issues have been filed with the County Election Board, raising to 29 the number on which local subdivisions will vote at the Nov. 2 general election.

Franklin Township trustees filed a resolution asking a vote on a 2-mill levy to provide funds for reconstruction, resurfacing and repair of township roads. In effect for three years, the issue would be comprised of a renewal of an existing 1.9 - mill levy and an increase of one-tenth of a mill.

East Palestine entered a new half-mill levy that would be in effect a year to provide funds for current municipal expenses —"current police relief and pension fund payments."

In addition to the 29 propositions filed by local subdivisions, all residents of Columbiana County are scheduled to vote on three statewide proposals, raising to 32 the total number of issues due on the ballot at present, according to Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board.

The number of local issues may rise to 30, as Hanoverton village officials are considering entering a tax levy, O'Hanlon said.

The official form of ballot was received Tuesday from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus and the board immediately referred the data to the Dodge Publishing Co. at Salem, printing contractor for the November tickets.

The board also is moving ahead with final preparations for a special election on a bond issue and a tax levy Sept. 21 in the Wellsville School District. Poll books for the balloting were delivered Tuesday.

Applauded At Cleveland

Vice President Stresses Need For Good Education

CLEVELAND (AP) — "A teacher who doesn't have a personal commitment to education is cheating the public," Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told some 9,000 Cleveland teachers, principals, administrators and custodians.

Humphrey, speaking Tuesday before Cleveland's first all-staff conference, received a standing ovation after stressing the need for good education and encouraging young people to stay in school.

In concluding a two - week campaign to reduce the number of school dropouts, Humphrey said the way to prevent dropouts is to improve the schools.

"When a business house starts losing customer, it takes a look at it management," the former college professor said.

"Let's be honest with ourselves and recognize this: Despite the dedication and hard work of American educators, there are deficiencies in American education. We must correct them," he said.

He said some courses offered in schools are like "trying to sell horseshoes at an auto show."

Vice President Stresses Need For Good Education

CLEVELAND (AP) — "A teacher who doesn't have a personal commitment to education is cheating the public," Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told some 9,000 Cleveland teachers, principals, administrators and custodians.

Humphrey, speaking Tuesday before Cleveland's first all-staff conference, received a standing ovation after stressing the need for good education and encouraging young people to stay in school.

In concluding a two - week campaign to reduce the number of school dropouts, Humphrey said the way to prevent dropouts is to improve the schools.

"When a business house starts losing customer, it takes a look at it management," the former college professor said.

"Let's be honest with ourselves and recognize this. Despite the dedication and hard work of American educators, there are deficiencies in American education. We must correct them," he said.

He said some courses offered in schools are like "trying to sell horseshoes at an auto show."

The vice president praised Cleveland's school system, especially the new libraries, vocational training programs and programs to teach adult illiterates to read and write.

Humphrey spoke on the eve of opening classes for 152,000 public school pupils. He said he was not here "on a political mission," but attended a Democratic reception and stayed one hour past his departure time.

'I'll Stick By Her,' Husband Says

Woman Faces Grand Jury Action In Death Of Boy

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert W. Colby stood in the parking lot of the Shaker Heights police station Tuesday and said, "Naturally I'll stick by her."

Inside, his wife Mariann had just been bound over to the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury on a charge of first degree murder in the death of a neighbor boy.

The 40-year-old Shaker Heights housewife is charged with the fatal shooting Aug. 24 of John Cremer Young Jr. She has pleaded innocent and, in a statement to detectives, has said the shooting was accidental.

Shaker Heights Municipal Judge John A. Corlett, during a 1½ hour preliminary hearing Tuesday, denied attempts to reduce the charge to a lesser one and to free Mrs. Colby on bond.

Her attorney, Gerald S. Gold, said there "is not a scintilla of evidence" to support the first degree charge. He said the state failed to show "probable cause" for a case of premeditated murder.

Mrs. Colby was returned to Cuyahoga County Jail after the hearing. The grand jury probably will get the case later this month.

In a first signed statement to police, Mrs. Colby said her 9-year-old son, Dane accidentally pulled the trigger of an old .32-caliber, five - shot revolver, which killed the boy. In a second statement, she said the gun accidentally fired while she was carrying a pile of laundry.

"She never told me about it (the gun) or where she got it," said Colby, a space engineer.

When detectives first questioned Dane, they described him as being in a sort of "fantasy land." Colby said Tuesday:

"One thing I want to get straight. My son is a slow learner and he is not retarded. He is going into the second grade which proves that he can get along in school."

Why was Mrs. Colby carrying a loaded gun?

Why was her finger on the trigger?

Why was the gun concealed in a pile of clothes?

"Why did she not call for someone to help after Cremer was shot?

Why did she try to hide the body and the weapon?

Why did she place the blame on her son and then later say she did the shooting accidentally?

The boy's body was found in Gates Mills about three hours after he died from a single shot in the back of the head.

Car Goes Off Street And Strikes Big Rock

An auto was damaged Tuesday night when it left Park Way 250 feet southwest of the Thompson Park gate and hit a big rock on the berm, police reported.

The 1956 sedan, operated by Linda Kay Geon, 16, of 208 W. 3rd St., went about two feet off the pavement as the girl drove south, rounding a curve, officers said. She said she misjudged the turn.

Railroad Will Halt Service At Cleveland

The railroad announced Tuesday night that two trains from Buffalo to Chicago will make their last runs Friday, leaving no passenger service between those two points on the old Nickel Plate Road.

A spokesman for Norfolk & Western cited operating losses as the primary reason for ending the service.

Council OK's Bridge Work At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Council Tuesday night authorized the Ohio Highway Department to repair flooring of a W. Main St. bridge and approved a salary increase and uniform allowance for Police Chief Ray Keister.

The highway department is scheduled to replace the present flooring of the span near the Christian Church with timbers. A 10-mile-an-hour speed limit has been placed on the bridge because of the condition of the present floor.

A pay boost from $245 a month to $265 a month was approved for the chief, along with a uniform allowance of $60 a year. The chief's post includes use of the Village Hall apartment and payment of utilities.

An increase in pay for Water Department Supt. Ernest Madison and Assistant Supt. Ronald Dunlap was requested by the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs.

Council authorized legislation be prepared for the next meeting Oct. 11 for an increase in pay for Madison from $395 to $415 a month and for Dunlap from $345 a month to $375.

Cecil Carter, chairman of the board, said the increases were sought because of the rise in the cost of living and because the department will begin to make its own water tests following completion of new laboratory facilities.

Mayor Stanley Fitch said he will confer tonight with Ted Mesmer, operator of a coal concern which has been stripping the village dump area, about meeting terms of an agreement on use of the dump.

Fitch said Mesmer was to meet with Council last night, but failed to appear.

Discussion was held about a Church St. home which was damaged by a fire a year ago and which remains a hazard. Mayor Fitch said he will notify the state fire marshal's office about the structure.

Several street repairs were discussed and Foreman Pete Growall was instructed to undertake the work.

Chief Keister reported 2,489 miles patrolled in the period since July 26, with 15 citations issued.

2 More Seek GOP Bid For Brown's Seat

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Clarence J. Brown Jr., Urbana publisher and radio station operator, and Albert E. Payne, who made three successful tries for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in the 1940s, are the sixth and seventh Republicans to announce for the congressional seat held by Brown's late father.

Brown, 38, chief executive of the Brown Publishing Co., declared his candidacy early Tuesday and Payne, 59, of Springfield dropped his hat into the ring Tuesday night.

Filing deadline for nominations in the special primary election is Saturday. The special primary, called by Gov. James A. Rhodes, will be held Sept. 21 with the new congressman being chosen in the regular Nov. 2 election.

The congressional vacancy was created by the death Aug. 23 of Clarence J. Brown Sr., Blanchester, who held the 7th Congressional District seat for 27 years.

In a first signed statement to police, Mrs. Colby said her 9-year-old son, Dane accidentally pulled the trigger of an old .32-caliber, five - shot revolver, which killed the boy. In a second statement, she said the gun accidentally fired while she was carrying a pile of laundry.

"She never told me about it (the gun) or where she got it," said Colby, a space engineer.

When detectives first questioned Dane, they described him as being in a sort of "fantasy land." Colby said Tuesday:

"One thing I want to get straight. My son is a slow learner and he is not retarded. He is going into the second grade which proves that he can get along in school."

Why was Mrs. Colby carrying a loaded gun?

Why was her finger on the trigger?

Why was the gun concealed in a pile of clothes?

"Why did she not call for someone to help after Cremer was shot?

Why did she try to hide the body and the weapon?

Why did she place the blame on her son and then later say she did the shooting accidentally?

The boy's body was found in Gates Mills about three hours after he died from a single shot in the back of the head.

Car Goes Off Street And Strikes Big Rock

An auto was damaged Tuesday night when it left Park Way 250 feet southwest of the Thompson Park gate and hit a big rock on the berm, police reported.

The 1956 sedan, operated by Linda Kay Geon, 16, of 208 W. 3rd St., went about two feet off the pavement as the girl drove south, rounding a curve, officers said. She said she misjudged the turn.

Railroad Will Halt Service At Cleveland

The railroad announced Tuesday night that two trains from Buffalo to Chicago will make their last runs Friday, leaving no passenger service between those two points on the old Nickel Plate Road.

A spokesman for Norfolk & Western cited operating losses as the primary reason for ending the service.

Council OK's Bridge Work At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Council Tuesday night authorized the Ohio Highway Department to repair flooring of a W. Main St. bridge and approved a salary increase and uniform allowance for Police Chief Ray Keister.

The highway department is scheduled to replace the present flooring of the span near the Christian Church with timbers. A 10-mile-an-hour speed limit has been placed on the bridge because of the condition of the present floor.

A pay boost from $245 a month to $265 a month was approved for the chief, along with a uniform allowance of $60 a year. The chief's post includes use of the Village Hall apartment and payment of utilities.

An increase in pay for Water Department Supt. Ernest Madison and Assistant Supt. Ronald Dunlap was requested by the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs.

Council authorized legislation be prepared for the next meeting Oct. 11 for an increase in pay for Madison from $395 to $415 a month and for Dunlap from $345 a month to $375.

Cecil Carter, chairman of the board, said the increases were sought because of the rise in the cost of living and because the department will begin to make its own water tests following completion of new laboratory facilities.

Mayor Stanley Fitch said he will confer tonight with Ted Mesmer, operator of a coal concern which has been stripping the village dump area, about meeting terms of an agreement on use of the dump.

Fitch said Mesmer was to meet with Council last night, but failed to appear.

Discussion was held about a Church St. home which was damaged by a fire a year ago and which remains a hazard. Mayor Fitch said he will notify the state fire marshal's office about the structure.

Several street repairs were discussed and Foreman Pete Growall was instructed to undertake the work.

2 More Seek GOP Bid For Brown's Seat

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Clarence J. Brown Jr., Urbana publisher and radio station operator, and Albert E. Payne, who made three successful tries for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in the 1940s, are the sixth and seventh Republicans to announce for the congressional seat held by Brown's late father.

Brown, 38, chief executive of the Brown Publishing Co., declared his candidacy early Tuesday and Payne, 59, of Springfield dropped his hat into the ring Tuesday night.

Filing deadline for nominations in the special primary election is Saturday. The special primary, called by Gov. James A. Rhodes, will be held Sept. 21 with the new congressman being chosen in the regular Nov. 2 election.

The congressional vacancy was created by the death Aug. 23 of Clarence J. Brown Sr., Blanchester, who held the 7th Congressional District seat for 27 years.

Council Plans Study

12 Irate Women Rap High Weeds

A delegation of 12 irate housewives from the Sophia St. and Minerva St. area appeared before Council Tuesday night to ask that owners of vacant lots should be required to keep the ground free of high weeds and refuse.

The women complained particularly about high weeds around the big lot occupied by the Loblaw, Inc., Market between Bradshaw Ave. and Minerva St. They charged the area is infested with rats and one woman asserted the weeds are so high "you couldn't find an elephant there."

THE DELEGATION asserted that two or three lots in the neighborhood are covered with high weeds, causing a hazard to children and a problem to hay fever sufferers because of the pollen. They suggested if the property owners would not cut the weeds and remove the debris the city should perform the work and bill the owners.

As an upshot of the long discussion, Council instructed Councilman Robert W. Sample to contact the Loblaw Market manager and advise him of the complaints.

Councilman Floyd Murray, president pro tem, said there apparently is no law on the books that allows the city to clear vacant lots and then bill the owners.

"Until we have an ordinance, we can only request, we can't force action," Councilman Donald Hancock added.

"Several years ago when I was chairman of the street committee, I went to the Loblaw manager and explained the complaints," Sample said. "They cut the weeds then and I feel they will do it again if they are requested."

The women replied that "one small patch" of weeds was cut on the market property recently, but most still are standing.

Mrs. Howard Pitts of Minerva St. declared the city should have an ordinance requiring vacant lots be kept clear.

"You couldn't find an elephant there—the weeds are too high," she complained.

MRS. PITTS also complained that she was unable to get the city dog warden to remove dogs from her property. She asserted that the dog warden's telephone number is unlisted and she could not contact him directly, but was required to file her complaint with the police department.

Murray replied that the dog warden's activities are directed by the administration, not Council.

"Council only makes the laws; it is up to the administration to enforce them," he explained.

Several other members of the delegation complained of the need for better dog law enforcement. They added that the Loblaw store's garbage or trash is burned on the premises, causing ashes to fly through the air and land on nearby property.

"You're giving us the devil but we don't deserve it," Councilman William Davis said. "As the president told you, we make the laws, but we don't enforce them. You should see the safety-service director, the health department or the police."

"We have done that very thing and nothing has been done," one of the women replied.

Councilman James Cunningham said he has received repeated complaints that refuse is burned at the Loblaw Market.

"I have tried to catch them burning garbage, but I never did," he said. "If anyone will call me when they are burning trash—anytime day or night—I promise you I will stop it."

CUNNINGHAM also said he believes the ordinance committee should investigate the need for legislation requiring that vacant lots be kept clear of refuse and weeds or the city will do the cleanup work and bill the owners.

Davis agreed with Cunningham. The city has acquired a tractor - powered mowing machine that could be used for weed-cutting on vacant lots, he said.

Council referred to the street committee a petition with 11 signatures requesting erection of stop signs on the approaches to Glove St. from Andrews Ave. The same petition charged that motorists are not observing 25-mile speed limit signs recently erected on Globe St.

The street committee was given a petition with 150 signatures requesting installation of a traffic light on W. 3rd St. at Jackson St. It also was asked to investigate a petition opposing Murray's proposal to install a new street light on the 1700 block of Etruria St.

The ordinance committee was given a letter from the Board of Public Utilities asking legislative authority to advertise for bids on a new half-ton pickup truck for use of the sewage department. The letter said the funds already have been appropriated. It also asked authority to trade in a 1959 model pickup and a 1956 station wagon on the new truck.

A $175 bill against the city from Robert Wright, 253 Moore St., was referred to the claims committee. Wright said he spent the money to correct a surface water condition that began in 1963. The cost represents labor and material for digging a ditch and installing drainage tile, he said.

COUNCIL received a letter from Probate Judge Louis Tobin complaining that a gas line belonging to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Jane Sherwood, 2001 St. Clair Ave., was broken by contractor's equipment during the St. Clair Ave. project. He said neither the contractor nor the Ohio Valley Gas Co. would assume the job of replacing the line.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey advised Council the problem was settled last Saturday, noting the letter had been written on Aug. 23. Council then ordered the letter filed. The letter noted Mrs. Sherwood was without gas service for six weeks.

"Why was this thing allowed to go on this way?" Hancock asked.

"No one would assume the responsibility," Vodrey replied.

"The gas company tore up a street in East End and left it that way for two years," Hancock said. "Those things should not be allowed to happen."

Harold Simms, 1001 May St., appeared personally before Council to ask the status of a claim for $448 which he filed after a storage building on his property was damaged by a city truck last January.

Hancock, head of the claims committee, said he expects legislation will be presented at the next meeting to settle the claim. Simms said he was not satisfied and declared he has "been given the runaround for months."

VODREY reported the low-cost surfacing of about two dozen streets is 98 per cent complete. The contractor, the Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. of Canton, now is applying a seal-coat to streets surfaced in 1963, he said.

The seal-coating began in East End and will continue westward into West End, Vodrey said.

Councilman Donald Smith asked the street committee to investigate a request for a new traffic rule banning right turns for eastbound Gardendale St. traffic at McKee St. He also asked a rule that would ban left turns at the same intersection for cars moving up McKee St.

Davis said a flight of city-owned steps between W. 8th St. and Ridgeway Ave. is in need of maintenance. Vodrey said the steps will be checked. He said it is a city policy to check each flight of steps once in six or eight weeks.

In response to a letter from the East Liverpool Merchants Association, Council agreed to meet in caucus session at 7 p. m. prior to its next meeting Sept. 20 to discuss downtown parking problems with a businessmen's committee.

Western Europe Wine Growers Hoping For Sun

PARIS (AP) — Western Europe's wine growers are holding their breath for a spell of prolonged sunshine as harvest time approaches. Even if they get it, the prospects of most will be only middling.

Major wine growing areas had a late spring and the worst summer in decades. Almost everywhere the grapes are late, although generally sound. But they may not reach ripe fullness without two to four weeks of sunshine—the rarest occurrence of the season.

The harvest normally starts about now for early varieties, ending in October with festivals from the Iberian Peninsula to Austria. This year most areas will start one to three weeks late—six weeks in the Beaujolais region near Lyon.

The first grapes picked so far, in southwest France, aroused little optimism. They were immature and low on sugar, hence low in alcohol content. Elsewhere the quality was feared largely compromised. Acidity was reported climbing in many vineyards.

Left-hander Billy Pierce, former pitching star, started and won 13 games without a loss in Candlestick Park in 1962, his first season with the San Francisco Giants.

Barber Reports Beatle Mops Result In Aggravated Acne

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — A form of teen-age mania is not the only ailment that may be attributed to the Beatles.

The fad they started of wearing the hair over the forehead is resulting in many cases of what a barber has termed "Beatle forehead."

G. LeRoy Pulos, who trims adolescent heads at the "Chop Shop," reports seeing many cases of aggravated acne under the mops that hang down to the eyebrows.

The term could be called "Beatle skin." The condition is seen also among girls who wear their hair down the side of their faces.

A Salt Lake physician specializing in dermatology, Dr. Lewis Kirkham, said the observation was accurate, as doctors are seeing more cases of acne made worse by overhanging hair.

He pointed out that hair becomes dirty easily, collecting bacteria and warming the skin to promote development of acne.

Asked how he treats cases of acne, the physician replied: "First, I make them get the hair off their faces."

Then the acne patients are directed to wash their hair every day and to use a non-oily hair dressing. The doctor said the idea that frequent washing causes baldness is just so much bunk.

Other aspects of acne treatment are frequent washing (but not scrubbing) of the skin with special soaps, use of ultra-violet light and X rays, a balanced diet and generally good hygiene.

The doctor said young people with acne should drink plenty of water so the kidneys will excrete all solid waste products.

Slow Moving Robber Hits Firm For $9,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — A slow moving robber walked off Tuesday with more than $9,000 from a suburban Euclid discount store after leisurely leafing through some magazines and drinking a soft drink.

Police said the neatly dressed man followed Mrs. Marian Betz, 37, into her office, sat down, pulled an automatic pistol and quietly asked her to put the morning's receipts into a brown paper bag.

Some 600 U.S. Marines were sent to Nicaragua in 1927 to protect U.S. interests. They were withdrawn in 1933.

India, Pakistan Battle For Kashmir

Incident On Cease-Fire Line Escalated Conflict

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The rapid escalation of hostilities between India and Pakistan stems directly from an incident on the U.N. cease-fire line in Kashmir on Aug. 5. The underlying cause is the long struggle — on the battlefield and in the diplomatic arena — for the prize of Kashmir.

On Aug. 5, according to U.N. observers, a group of armed men mostly in civilian dress crossed the cease-fire line from the Pakistan side "for the purpose of armed action on the Indian side."

Indian Ambassador Gopalaswami Parthasrathi told the U.N. Security Council last Saturday the invaders numbered 5,000 and were Pakistani troops in civilian guise. He said their objective was sabotage, assassination, and the capture of the summer capital, Srinagar.

He said interrogation of prisoners revealed that the planned training for the invasion began in May.

Pakistani Ambassador Syed Amjad Ali said his country totally repudiated the Indian allegations. He said that no units of the Pakistani armed forces crossed the cease-fire line. The Pakistani claim that the trouble in Kashmir amounted to an uprising by elements of the Moslem population, assisted by some civilian volunteers from across the line.

Aly charged that India committed agression first by seizing three posts on the Kashmir side of the line in the Kargil sector in May. Pakistan lodged a complaint with the council in May but did not ask for a council meeting.

India claimed that it seized the posts in order to protect its lines of communications with the Ladakh sector, where Indian troops remain on guard against the threat of invasion by Communist Chinese forces.

Indian forces withdrew from the posts at the end of June after being assured by the United Nations that military observers would be posted in the area to assure the safety of the road. After the incident of Aug. 5 India again occupied the three Pakistani posts.

Secretary-General U Thant stepped into the situation Aug. 9, when he began a series of almost daily private separate meetings with Indian and Pakistani representatives at the United Nations in an effort to get both sides to show restraint.

Thant had been receiving reports from U.N. officials on the increasing gravity of the situation on the cease-fire line.

The struggle between India and Pakistan over Kashmir is more than 18 years old. A short time after partition of India in mid-August 1947 into the two separate countries, armed conflict flared over Kashmir.

The state is predominantly Moslem, but its Hindu maharajah, Sir Hari Singh, acceded the state to India. Pakistan refused to recognize the act of accession and demanded a plebiscite to decide the state's future.

On New Year's Day in 1949 Pakistan and India agreed to observe the U.N. cease-fire line that left about two-thirds of Kashmir in Indian hands.

The dispute has been before the United Nations many times but it has never been resolved. In May, Pakistan lodged a complaint with the council in May but did not ask for a council meeting.

France Fails To Join In Praise Of SEATO

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—France failed to join its other seven partners in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today in congratulating the anti-Communist alliance on its 11th anniversary.

The action—unprecedented in SEATO's history — was interpreted as another move by French President Charles de Gaulle to disassociate his government from SEATO support of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

India, Pakistan Battle For Kashmir

Incident On Cease-Fire Line Escalated Conflict

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The rapid escalation of hostilities between India and Pakistan stems directly from an incident on the U.N. cease-fire line in Kashmir on Aug. 5. The underlying cause is the long struggle — on the battlefield and in the diplomatic arena — for the prize of Kashmir.

On Aug. 5, according to U.N. observers, a group of armed men mostly in civilian dress crossed the cease-fire line from the Pakistan side "for the purpose of armed action on the Indian side."

Indian Ambassador Gopalaswami Parthasrathi told the U.N. Security Council last Saturday the invaders numbered 5,000 and were Pakistani troops in civilian guise. He said their objective was sabotage, assassination, and the capture of the summer capital, Srinagar.

He said interrogation of prisoners revealed that the planned training for the invasion began in May.

Pakistani Ambassador Syed Amjad Ali said his country totally repudiated the Indian allegations. He said that no units of the Pakistani armed forces crossed the cease-fire line. The Pakistani claim that the trouble in Kashmir amounted to an uprising by elements of the Moslem population, assisted by some civilian volunteers from across the line.

Aly charged that India committed agression first by seizing three posts on the Kashmir side of the line in the Kargil sector in May. Pakistan lodged a complaint with the council in May but did not ask for a council meeting.

India claimed that it seized the posts in order to protect its lines of communications with the Ladakh sector, where Indian troops remain on guard against the threat of invasion by Communist Chinese forces.

Indian forces withdrew from the posts at the end of June after being assured by the United Nations that military observers would be posted in the area to assure the safety of the road. After the incident of Aug. 5 India again occupied the three Pakistani posts.

Secretary-General U Thant stepped into the situation Aug. 9, when he began a series of almost daily private separate meetings with Indian and Pakistani representatives at the United Nations in an effort to get both sides to show restraint.

Thant had been receiving reports from U.N. officials on the increasing gravity of the situation on the cease-fire line.

The struggle between India and Pakistan over Kashmir is more than 18 years old. A short time after partition of India in mid-August 1947 into the two separate countries, armed conflict flared over Kashmir.

The state is predominantly Moslem, but its Hindu maharajah, Sir Hari Singh, acceded the state to India. Pakistan refused to recognize the act of accession and demanded a plebiscite to decide the state's future.

On New Year's Day in 1949 Pakistan and India agreed to observe the U.N. cease-fire line that left about two-thirds of Kashmir in Indian hands.

The dispute has been before the United Nations many times but it has never been resolved. Diplomatic efforts by the major powers to induce both sides to settle the dispute have also been in vain.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican press office announced today Pope Paul VI would go to New York to visit the United Nations on Oct. 4.

The announcement did not say how long the Pope would spend in New York on the first papal trip to the United States. But the director of the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said he would be there only one day.

The 8,500-mile round trip will be Pope Paul's third major voyage since he opened a new era of papal travel by flying to the Holy Land and then to India last year.

He is expected to go again by air, leaving Rome on Sunday Oct. 3, and spending the next day in New York. Presumably he will fly back overnight to be in Rome Tuesday morning. In this way he will be gone a minimum amount of time while the Vatican Ecumenical Council is holding its final session.

Raimondo Manzini, director of L'Osservatore Romano, told newsmen the Pope would attend a major religious service in New York City on the afternoon of Oct. 4.

Vatican sources said the service would probably be in St. Patrick's Cathedral, on Fifth Avenue. It presumably will be the Pope's main activity outside of his attendance at a session the U.N. General Assembly.

He is expected to make a major peace appeal before the assembly.

Vatican officials reportedly hope President Johnson will go to New York to see the Pope. Presumably the White House had been sounded out on the possibility of this. It was assumed that the pontiff would not go to Washington because his visit officially is to the United Nations, not to the United States.

Vatican officials said further information about the Pope's trip would be announced in the next few days.

It had been generally believed the Pope, 67, would go to the United Nations after the new year because of the Vatican council. His decision to go earlier may possibly reflect his concern about the world situation.

Law Head Nominated For Mayor In Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — City Law Director Raymond C. Sheppard won the Democratic nomination for mayor Tuesday and will oppose John S. Ballard in the November election.

A proposed charter amendment to reallocate city income tax receipts was defeated by a vote of 26,633 to 17,198, killing a plan to give pay raises to 2,100 city workers.

Floyd Lower To Talk For Lisbon's Kiwanis

LISBON — Floyd Lower will discuss a trip to Europe for fellow members of the Kiwanis Club at a meeting Thursday noon at St. George's Parish House.

The club also will elect officers and five members of the Board of Directors. The nominating committee is comprised of Jack Beck, James McBride and Dail Mason. Women of St. George's parish will serve the luncheon.

Young Driver Loses Permit

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered a 15-day suspension in the driver's license of a 19-year-old Fisher Park area youth who pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour early Friday in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Jerry Ray Reed, 112 Boring Ln., also was ordered to pay the court costs in the State Highway Patrol case.

Reed was cited at 12:05 a. m. by Cpl. K. L. Day, who reported he took up pursuit after observing the defendant's car traveling "at a high rate of speed." He said he saw Reed pass two motorcycles headed in the same direction, then clocked the motorist for the next mile at 75.

"The officer who stopped you may have saved your life," the judge told Reed, pointing out that the county's 1965 traffic toll stands at 30.

Thomas Lawrence Lamb, 36, of Hudson forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way filed by the patrol after a collision between his auto and a motorcycle Saturday on Route 267 at the junction with the Y. & O. Rd. in Glenmoor.

The patrol said Lamb's car was involved in a collison with a cycle operated by Daniel E. Williams of Irish Ridge Rd.

Lamb pulled out of a service station lot, crossed the Y. & O. Rd. into another service station and then pulled onto Route 267 in front of the motorcycle, the patrol reported.

request for Council to enact legislation authorizing the Board of Public Utilities to sell water to the service district.

Gard pointed out the so-called Southeastern District previously had reached an agreement with the utility board for purchase of water, although that fact was unknown to Council until about six months ago. But he pointed out it since has been discovered that the utility board cannot enter into such a contract without Council's authority.

The Southeastern District was dissolved because it was discovered it had no legal right to issue bonds to finance the water and sewer work. It was then that the county took over the project.

THE AGREEMENT for sale of water is the next hurdle in pushing ahead with the project, Gard said. If there is a delay in reaching agreement, it would hold up the award of contracts for installation of the lines, probably meaning that none of the work could be done before next spring, he said.

The prior agreement between the utility board and the Southeastern District called for the city to run a main from the end of its present line on St. Clair Ave. to the Bloomfield area, where the water district would have erected a standpipe, he said.

The county soon will notify affected property owners of plans for the project, clearing the way for a public hearing in which anyone may state objections to the proposal, Gard said. When the step is finished, the way will be clear to advertise for bids and sign a contract for installation of the main lines and the balance of the distribution system, he said.

Construction of the sewage system is expected to come a year after the water lines are in place, he added.

Queried by Council, Engineer George S. Bloomgren said the city water department has a filtration capacity of 5.9 million gallons daily. The city presently uses about 2.3 million gallons a day, he added. Plans contemplate that the St. Clair area would use approximately 200,000 gallons a day, based on an assumption that it will attract 500 customers, he said.

IN THE former agreement for the sale of water, the St. Clair district agreed to pay the same rates as other customers outside the city limits — 10 per cent above the charge to city residents. On that basis, the sale of water would bring the utilities board $1,500 a month, Bloomgren said.

Councilman William Davis commented that water service was one of the big factors the city has hoped for years would encourage outlying communities to seek to come into the municipal corporation. If outlying areas have water service, the city's case for annexation would be weaker, he said.

Boyd said he feels if the city provides water service "it will help draw the communities closer together." He said the city and the outlying areas are interdependent.

"We're ready to go," Gard said, referring to plans for the project. He said the county will seek to obtain water from deep wells if it is unable to purchase it from the city. Availability of plentiful water might help attract new industries to the township, Gard said.

The discussion ended with the agreement to refer the question to the ordinance committee.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three other sons, Harvey Richard Moore in the Navy, Charles Dewey Moore, who was injured in the crash, and William Everett Moore, who remains in "fairly good" condition at the hospital with injuries suffered in the accident; a daughter, Irene Florence Moore, who was discharged from the hospital Tuesday, and a brother, Harold E. Moore of Dixonville.

A triple funeral will be held Thursday at 10:30 a. m. at the Arner Chester Chapel for Mr. and Mrs. Moore and the child. Evangelist Frank Higgenbotham of the Virginia Ave. Church of Christ in Chester will officiate.

Ex-Businessman, 80, Seeks College Degree

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — "If I live until 1972, I think I can get a college degree," laughed Edward S. Babcox, 80, a freshman at the University of Akron.

Though he often laughs at himself, learning is not a laughing matter to Babcox, who has wanted to go to college since his high school days.

Instead, he made plans to get married and then helped support his family when his father died. Then there were four children. He now has 18 grandchildren, one of whom asked in awe when she found out her grandfather was going back to school, "You mean you are going to take examinations?"

Babcox did finish high school, and later became advertising manager of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. He left in 1920 and bought a trade journal. It's known as Babcox Business Publications, publishes seven magazines a year and is operated by his sons. Babcox went into semi-retirement eight years ago.

A widower for four years, Babcox understands what widowed persons mean when they say adjustment is difficult. It took a daughter-in-law's sense of humor to prod him into action again.

"Why don't you go over to the university," she asked. "they have lots of things for old fossils like you!"

He did, and it has almost been his second home. The only difficulty is that he always felt exceptionally conscious of the fact that he isn't a college graduate.

"My wife was," he said. "Our children and their mates are, and my oldest grandson was just graduated from Stanford. They have all been trying to educate me for years. But they weren't making much progress. So I decided to take things in my own hands."

When he'll have time to study is anybody's guess, with all his other activities. His present consuming interest is a Chinese child he adopted through Foster Parent's Plan.

His life is intertwined with Akron's civic growth. He founded the Akron Advertising Club, was president of the Sumner Home for the Aged for 12 years and is a life member of the board. He has been president and chairman of practically every office in the First Congregational Church.

September should be an eventful month for Babcox. His freshman orientation class is the 24th his 81st birthday the 25th and classes will begin on the 27th.

Widow Donates Funds For Miami U. Building

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—The widow of a local realtor and developer has donated $250,000 for an auditorium on Miami University's Middletown campus.

The gift by Mrs. Gladys Finkelman, widow of Dave Finkelman, was announced Tuesday.

Logan T. Johnston, president of Armco Steel Corp. and head of the Middletown campus fund drive, said the gift will make possible the construction of a 750-seat, $750,000 auditorium on the campus scheduled to open in the fall of 1966.

Restaurant Owners Hint Drastic Changes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Restaurant owners say the rising cost of food may prompt some drastic changes in the business, the most likely to be automation.

The Ohio State Restaurant Association said Tuesday that a poll taken among food service operators indicated that their cost level "will never go down to, say, the level of 1964."

The association will hold its annual convention here Sept. 14-16. The high cost of food and other matters will be up for discussion.

Another Walkout Hits Coal Firm In West Virginia

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — Nearly 400 miners staged another walkout early today at Hanna Coal Co.'s Ireland mine near here after six workers were fired, presumably for their part in a strike that started last week.

Only 14 miners remained on the job with the graveyard shift today after company officials said the six workers were dismissed because they took part in what the company termed "unauthorized work stoppages."

Members of United Mine Workers union Local 1110 voted Tuesday night to return to work with the midnight shift Tuesday, ending a strike that started last week. But the return to work was halted with reports of the six dismissals.

Union and company officials were to meet today to discuss the firings. The Ohio Coal Association reportedly will set a date soon for an appeal hearing for the six men.

Pearson Slates Nov. 8 Election In Canadian Bid

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson Tuesday night scheduled a general election Nov. 8 in an attempt to win a majority in the House of Commons for his Liberal party.

It will be Canada's fifth general election in eight years.

In the 1963 election, the Liberals won only 129 of the 265 seats in Commons and since then have governed with the support of minor parties. Pearson, announcing the election, said his party's position had become increasingly shaky during the summer.

"I believe that the Canadian people want to solve the big problems, to get on with the important tasks facing them, to get on with the job of building the new Canada," he said in a radio-television address.

Red China Accuses India Of Violations

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China protested today against what it claimed were "successive serious violations" of Communist China's territory and sovereignty by Indian troops.

The Chinese also urged India to "withdraw" its armed forces and "stop all acts of aggression and provocation against China in the western, middle and eastern sectors of the Chinese-Indian border."

Chester Asked To Join In Air Pollution Study

Chester has been asked to send a representative to a meeting at Steubenville in conjunction with an air pollution study which will be conducted along the Ohio River in both West Virginia and Ohio.

The study will take place under Public Health Service authority granted by the Federal Clean Air Act.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the session, with the date to be announced, was made during Tuesday night's Council meeting at City Hall in a letter from the West Virginia Air Pollution Control Commission, with headquarters in Charleston. The meeting will be at the Ft. Steuben Hotel.

In other action, Council received a request from the State Road Commission, District 6, at Moundsville for copies of any zoning ordinances and building codes established by the city.

A third letter read by Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, came from the Department of Labor in Charleston and reminded Council of the 1961 wage law that requires public officials authorized to contract for construction of public improvements to ascertain from the state commissioner of labor the fair minimum rate of wages before advertising for such construction bids.

It requested that the Labor Department be informed of anticipated construction projects while in the planning stage so that a copy of the wage determination for the particular locality could be sent.

The letters were filed for future reference.

DURING committee reports, a large locust tree located near the railroad track between 3rd and 4th Sts. was discussed. Percy Willison, councilman, explained that the tree is split and could be downed in a storm, blocking the line and resulting in a dangerous situation.

Bumpy grade crossings at the railroad also were mentioned and it was reported that elementary school children were being blocked by railroad cars at the 6th St. crossing.

Bills in the amount of $2,213 were ordered paid, the largest items consisting of $396 for the Ohio Tar and Asphalt Co. and $304 for the Monongahela Power Co.

Mayor Harry Abrams and James Jordan, city solicitor, were among those attending last night's session.

Dayton Woman Held In Death Of Man, 33

Police were holding Mrs. Helen Hunt, 50, without charge for investigation in the shooting of Irving Lee Barnett.

Barnett had told authorities after the shooting that he was sitting in a car in front of Mrs. Hunt's home when shot.

The Brooklyn Bridge opened in 1883.

It will be Canada's fifth general election in eight years.

In the 1963 election, the Liberals won only 129 of the 265 seats in Commons and since then have governed with the support of minor parties. Pearson, announcing the election, said his party's position had become increasingly shaky during the summer.

"I believe that the Canadian people want to solve the big problems, to get on with the important tasks facing them, to get on with the job of building the new Canada," he said in a radio-television address.

Red China Accuses India Of Violations

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China protested today against what it claimed were "successive serious violations" of Communist China's territory and sovereignty by Indian troops.

The Chinese also urged India to "withdraw" its armed forces and "stop all acts of aggression and provocation against China in the western, middle and eastern sectors of the Chinese-Indian border."

Chester Asked To Join In Air Pollution Study

Chester has been asked to send a representative to a meeting at Steubenville in conjunction with an air pollution study which will be conducted along the Ohio River in both West Virginia and Ohio.

The study will take place under Public Health Service authority granted by the Federal Clean Air Act.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the session, with the date to be announced, was made during Tuesday night's Council meeting at City Hall in a letter from the West Virginia Air Pollution Control Commission, with headquarters in Charleston. The meeting will be at the Ft. Steuben Hotel.

In other action, Council received a request from the State Road Commission, District 6, at Moundsville for copies of any zoning ordinances and building codes established by the city.

A third letter read by Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, came from the Department of Labor in Charleston and reminded Council of the 1961 wage law that requires public officials authorized to contract for construction of public improvements to ascertain from the state commissioner of labor the fair minimum rate of wages before advertising for such construction bids.

It requested that the Labor Department be informed of anticipated construction projects while in the planning stage so that a copy of the wage determination for the particular locality could be sent.

The letters were filed for future reference.

DURING committee reports, a large locust tree located near the railroad track between 3rd and 4th Sts. was discussed. Percy Willison, councilman, explained that the tree is split and could be downed in a storm, blocking the line and resulting in a dangerous situation.

Bumpy grade crossings at the railroad also were mentioned and it was reported that elementary school children were being blocked by railroad cars at the 6th St. crossing.

Bills in the amount of $2,213 were ordered paid, the largest items consisting of $396 for the Ohio Tar and Asphalt Co. and $304 for the Monongahela Power Co.

Mayor Harry Abrams and James Jordan, city solicitor, were among those attending last night's session.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Students Offered Advice On College

Dear Young Friend: You are about to launch upon a great and serious enterprise. You may have had a hard struggle to win entrance to the college you are going to attend. It may not be the college of your first choice. However, your high school record and your score on the various college entrance tests may have been so high that you won entrance easily. Or you may be going to a state university which admits all graduates of a state - approved high school.

Dr. Garry Myers

In any event, you have cleared only the first hurdle. You have to prove by your scholastic record at the college or university you enter that you are worthy to continue there.

—:—

ALTHOUGH the higher your records on entrance requirements, the better should be your chances of making good in college. Not all students with high entrance records are allowed to stay till they graduate. A few who were star students in high school are among the bust-outs in college.

You may soon discover that, at college, you are competing with many other youths who were star students in their respective high schools. You may be puzzled and discouraged with this discovery. Yet, you may be inclined to feel secure in remembering your good record in high school.

Indeed, you may put so much trust in this earlier high school record as not to feel the necessity to put forth your best efforts until you have reached a dangerous point in your college work. In case panic seized you then, your plight could be tragic.

PERHAPS while in high school your parents kept after you to see that you did your homework well, and did not spend excessive time at social fun. You may have had some teachers and special counselors in high school who constantly guided you and inspired you to do your best as a student. You may never have taken sole responsibility for your own school-work program. In high school you may have been able to avoid certain basic courses whose mastery was indispensable to successes in some or many of your college courses.

At college you are on your own as never before. You are free to budget your time between work and play. As a freshman you are free to study or not study when you choose. You rarely will have a counselor to warn you in due time when you are lagging in any or all your college courses.

IF YOUR progress is bad enough, you may just receive notice at the end of a semester or year that you may not return, that you are a bust-out. The fact that many another member of your class receives a like notice will hardly help you.

If you are wise, you will resolve from the first day when college begins to pilot your own ship and pilot it well.

My bulletin, "Tips for Students," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Age Bracket Dropped For Police, Fire Tests

Men under 21 may take Civil Service examinations for appointments to Ohio police and fire departments, but are not eligible to assume the posts until they pass their 21st birthday.

That amendment in the Ohio Revised Code was cited today by the Municipal Civil Service Commission, quoting the journal, "Cities and Villages," published by the Ohio Municipal League. The change in the law, enacted by the last session of the state legislature, became effective Aug. 23.

Prior to the change, 21 was the lower limit for applicants for police and fire department job exams.

Flood Ordeal Over For 42 Utah Hikers

ZION NATIONAL PARK, Utah (AP)—Ordeal by flood was over today for 42 wilderness hikers trapped almost three days by rains which swelled the Virgin River in Zion National Park's deep Zion Narrows.

The last were a party of nine, led by Iron County Sheriff Otto Fife of nearby Cedar City. He led a party of 21 which began the hike Saturday, when weather forecasts indicated it would probably not rain.

It did rain early Sunday before dawn, and some hikers said the water rushing through the canyon sounded like jet airplanes.

Some of Fife's party left the canyon before he and the last eight came out late Tuesday. Fife, 64, said he had kept the last eight because he was worried about their physical condition, and was afraid to tackle the canyon until he was sure the water wouldn't rise further.

The canyon has sheer walls, rising in places 1,500 feet. A man can stretch out both arms and touch either side in places. Hikers have to wade the river most of the way because there are no banks.

They were preceded by two 16-year-old boys who told park rangers the Californians had left before they did. How they passed the Californians remained a mystery.

Les Frazin of Los Angeles said, "If there was anybody up there who didn't believe in God, he does now."

Only one person was injured, Alan Keller of Orem, Utah, whose leg was hit by a log during the height of the flood. He limped out Tuesday and was flown to a Salt Lake City hospital for treatment.

The Boy Scouts of America was incorporated in 1910 following a visit to England by William D. Boyce, Chicago publisher. While there he met Sir Robert Baden - Powell, founder of the Scouting movement, and was inspired to take the lead in transplanting the idea to the United States.

At college you are on your own as never before. You are free to budget your time between work and play. As a freshman you are free to study or not study when you choose. You rarely will have a counselor to warn you in due time when you are lagging in any or all your college courses.

IF YOUR progress is bad enough, you may just receive notice at the end of a semester or year that you may not return, that you are a bust-out. The fact that many another member of your class receives a like notice will hardly help you.

If you are wise, you will resolve from the first day when college begins to pilot your own ship and pilot it well.

Age Bracket Dropped For Police, Fire Tests

Men under 21 may take Civil Service examinations for appointments to Ohio police and fire departments, but are not eligible to assume the posts until they pass their 21st birthday.

That amendment in the Ohio Revised Code was cited today by the Municipal Civil Service Commission, quoting the journal, "Cities and Villages," published by the Ohio Municipal League. The change in the law, enacted by the last session of the state legislature, became effective Aug. 23.

Prior to the change, 21 was the lower limit for applicants for police and fire department job exams.

Flood Ordeal Over For 42 Utah Hikers

ZION NATIONAL PARK, Utah (AP)—Ordeal by flood was over today for 42 wilderness hikers trapped almost three days by rains which swelled the Virgin River in Zion National Park's deep Zion Narrows.

The last were a party of nine, led by Iron County Sheriff Otto Fife of nearby Cedar City. He led a party of 21 which began the hike Saturday, when weather forecasts indicated it would probably not rain.

It did rain early Sunday before dawn, and some hikers said the water rushing through the canyon sounded like jet airplanes.

Some of Fife's party left the canyon before he and the last eight came out late Tuesday. Fife, 64, said he had kept the last eight because he was worried about their physical condition, and was afraid to tackle the canyon until he was sure the water wouldn't rise further.

The canyon has sheer walls, rising in places 1,500 feet. A man can stretch out both arms and touch either side in places. Hikers have to wade the river most of the way because there are no banks.

Before Fife and his party came out, five Californians who had been feared missing walked to safety.

They were preceded by two 16-year-old boys who told park rangers the Californians had left before they did. How they passed the Californians remained a mystery.

The Californians told a story of clinging to ledges and trees, and crouching behind a waterfall when water poured through the gorge Monday.

Les Frazin of Los Angeles said, "If there was anybody up there who didn't believe in God, he does now."

Only one person was injured, Alan Keller of Orem, Utah, whose leg was hit by a log during the height of the flood. He limped out Tuesday and was flown to a Salt Lake City hospital for treatment.

The 42 trapped in the canyon were mostly from Utah, and included several children.

The Boy Scouts of America was incorporated in 1910 following a visit to England by William D. Boyce, Chicago publisher. While there he met Sir Robert Baden - Powell, founder of the Scouting movement, and was inspired to take the lead in transplanting the idea to the United States.

U.N. Show Fails Its Mission

Hal Humphrey

In the third of a series of TV specials based on a United Nations theme (to be seen at 8 p. m. Thursday) the writer, Arthur Ross, created what he hoped was "high farce with a serious statement underneath."

Unhappily Ross does not make the farce funny enough or the serious statement substantial enough in "Once Upon a Tractor," and the stars of the show are left hanging in mid-air, so to speak.

EVEN IN FARCE it is necessary to have real characters. The young farmer in Ross' drama seems like a farmer, and the attractive adventures he meets is even less a real person.

As the self-appointed spokesman for a farm collective, Joe Torrel (Alan Bates) resolves to go direct to the United Nations after the bureaucrats in his country tell him that the budget covering the tractor promised for his farm has been reallocated to jet planes for defense.

Most of the hour is consumed watching Joe and the adventuress he meets (Diane Cilento) outsmarting border guards and being chased by ship captains as they beat their way to New York and the United Nations.

THERE IS EVEN a used car dealer (Buddy Hackett) to take advantage of our hero and heroine (Joe ultimately shows the cynical adventuress the beauty of dignity and the virtue in idealism).

Obviously Ross conceived this comedy-drama in the tradition of the Harold Lloyds and Charlie Chaplins where the "little man" by hook or crook and plenty of obstinacy attains victory — and the girl.

The ingredients for such a mixture are not there, unfortunately. Neither Bates nor Miss Cilento seems to have the peculiar talent for pantomime so essential in such a comedy, or if they do, then they are not allowed by Argentine film director Leopoldo Torre-Nilsson to display it here.

IN THE ROSS SCRIPT there are a few chuckles along the way, but farces require hilarious boffs or belly laughs, and Ross' situations are not that funny.

And hardly any suspense exists in the climactic scene where our farmer presents his cadre before the august gentlemen of the U.N. committee. Everything turns out to be pathetically simple for Joe, once he has made his pitch for the tractor.

One of the ingredients overlooked by Ross is pathos, which always was found laced into the Chaplin and Lloyd comedies. One felt a great sympathy with their characters because of their plight and their usually unsophisticated means for solving all dilemmas. In the case of farmer Joe and his girl, they are likeable enough, but I did not find myself pulling for them.

SO FAR, the Telsun Foundation, which was set up on a nonprofit basis by a group of private citizens to subsidize a series of six TV specials to more fully acquaint people with the social and economic work of the United Nations, has had only a modicum of success.

Rod Serling's "Carol for Another Christmas," the first in the series and telecast last December, was ponderous and overly propagandized. The second, a story of floating refugees by Tad Mosel and adapted to TV by Don Mankiewicz, was called "Who Has Seen the Wind?" It was artistically outstanding and had more than average merit in the story it told.

Because of problems in lining up producers, Telsun has cut the series to five shows now, and one of these may need an overhauling in light of events on the Pakistan - India border last week.

PRODUCER Sam Spiegel has been working on a story by the late Eugene Burdick about a U.N. peace-keeping observer on the Pakistan-India "cease - fire line."

The other is a Joe Eisinger teleplay ("Poppies Are Also Flowers") based on the late Ian Fleming's story about illegal narcotics traffic and being filmed in Iran and southern Europe.

In a year when TV's vapidity has been overwhelming, a noble effort such as the U.N. series is sorely needed. It is too bad it couldn't have been nobler.

Amish Father Of 11 Killed In Accident

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — An Amish father of 11 was killed in Greentown, north of here, when a stone crusher hammer apparently struck a bar he was using and drove it into his chest.

Coroner Gus S. Shaheen said Andrew H. Sammers, 41, of Hartville died Tuesday of a deep chest puncture and a laceration of the heart. Sammers was using the bar to shove rocks into the stone crusher.

Ohio 'Hot Wire' Law Being Tested In Court

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's controversial two-year-old "hot wire" law, which gives electric utilities the right to run high-voltage lines through cities, is being tested in court in a dispute between the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. (CEI) and the city of Painesville.

The case got under way Tuesday and CEI is seeking a declaratory judgment that it does not need the city's consent to string 345,000-volt lines on steel towers through the city or, if it does, consent cannot be legally withheld.

City Council adopted June 21 an ordinance requiring electric utility wires over 33,000 volts to be underground.

2 Men Grab $1,200 At Cleveland Firm

CLEVELAND (AP)—An East Side Finance company was robbed Tuesday of $1,200 by two men, one of them armed, who bound the hands of the manager and his receptionist.

Floyd Collins unable to extricate himself from Sand Cave, near Cave City, Ky., died within 300 feet of the entrance in 1925.

Mongooses Fail To Stop Rats

Deterioration Of Haiti Continuing Despite Aid

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Rats infest Haiti. They nest in the thick grass roof of a peasant's hut and feed on his meager crops. They seem to own the country road at night as they flit back and forth in the headlights.

The U.S. government once tried to do something about the rats. Mongooses were introduced into the country. But the project failed. The mongooses, instead of attacking the rats ate the peasant's chickens, adding to his burden.

For many Haitians, the mongoose project is a fair illustration of the effectiveness of foreign aid in the Western Hemisphere's poorest nation. One hundred million dollars has been spent to aid Haiti since World War II. Most of it came from the United States. But the deterioration of the country seems to continue.

Much of the aid was for road construction and maintenance. Yet the 200-mile ride from Port au Prince to Les Cayes, a southern port city, takes more than 15 hours by Jeep today. It was a four-hour trip by car in 1957, the year Francois Duvalier became president.

Near Les Cayes a huge earth mover sits abandoned on a rise in the rutted road. The initials "U.S.A." are stenciled on the doors. Weeds grow through the engine hood. Peasants in the neighborhood say the earth mover blew a tire six years ago. Before a new tire was obtained, the road project stopped and the earth mover was forgotten.

In the potentially rich Artibonite Valley, a dam and irrigation system stands as a monument to what U.S. officials describe as corruption and inefficiency in the Haitain government. More than $30 million, borrowed from the Export-Import Bank, went into the project. The money was exhausted before electric generators were installed. They were left to rust in the fields.

The Duvalier government no longer maintains the dam and the irrigation canals. They are clogged with silt, limiting agricultural development of the valley.

One aid project has been successful in recent years, and its success helps explain some of the failures.

In 1961, Duvalier signed a $3.5-million credit agreement with the International Development Bank. Under it, an institute of agricultural and industrial development was established as an autonomous branch of the Haitian government. The director, Jean Delej, a U.S. citizen, assumed control over money and hiring.

The institute set out to provide financial and technical assistance for the small peasant farmer — and also a market for his product.

This was the key feature. In the Haitian feudal economy, the peasant farmer doesn't conceive of a good market for a good crop. Cotton, growing nearly wild, always has been purchased by Port au Prince merchants for five or six cents a pound.

The institute, through a series of small loans to peasants, encouraged proper cultivation of a better grade of cotton, then paid 10 cents a pound.

The program started slowly as skeptical peasants used their loans to buy fertilizer, insecticide, seed and advice from the institute. In a matter of months, the yield on many tiny holdings jumped from 200 to 2,000 pounds per acre. The number of participating farmers in the volunteer program went from 136 in 1962 to 1,053 in 1964 to 4,600 this year. The 1965 production was 5.2 million pounds of the highest grade cotton Haiti has seen in generations.

Similar loan programs have been carried out for corn and grain, with similar results in the past 12 months, according to the institute's figures.

The institute has spent $2,045,200 since 1961 and has made loans to 10,000 of Haiti's 500,000 peasant families.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Do you know what can be done in a jiffy with a swatch of leftover drapery material or any fabric?

I simply press transparent adhesive-backed plastic paper to the top side of the material, smooth it carefully with my hand, turn it over, then do the same with the other side.

No hemming is necessary, and you can cut the completed job in any shape you prefer. This makes handy, easy-to-clean table runners, doilies for lamp bases, etc.

DEAR FOLKS: How William ever figured this one out, I'll never know!

He sent us a sample that looks like heavy upholstery material. I presume he had covered a piece of furniture with this. And, just as he says, it does not ravel.

My idea, which just hit me like a ton of bricks, would be:

Next time you cover your dining room chairs, buy some extra material, and make yourself some place mats for your dining room table! Then it would all match. With the swipe of a damp sponge, they could be cleaned in a jiffy.

This idea could certainly be utilized for those of you who have polished cotton kitchen curtains, and want to cover your breakfast room chairs to match. Heretofore, polished cotton was quite impractical as a chair cover. Not any more!

Next time you make new kitchen curtains, why not buy some extra yardage to cover your chairs and to make some place mats for your table.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever tried pinning several thicknesses of nylon net over your squeegee mop, when giving the kitchen floors a quick swipe?

It's great for getting up dabs of dropped food without getting down on your hands and knees to scrape it off.

DEAR HELOISE: For the gal who cooks bacon for breakfast, and always wishes that the job was already done . . .

To save my clothing — and avoid getting a stove greasy I fry as much as two pounds of bacon at a time. I drain it well on paper towels, then package it separately (in breakfast - size portions) in foil, and place in my freezer.

At breakfast time, I preheat the oven to 375 degrees (before making the coffee), then place an unopened, foil-wrapped, frozen package of bacon in the oven.

Five to eight minutes in the oven does the trick!

MRS. A. C. McFARLAND.

DEAR HELOISE: My youngest child has trouble managing a bar of soap for handwashing.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Kerosene is a very effective product to remove crayon marks from sidewalks. Just scrub hard with a stiff brush.

It will also remove such marks from painted wood, etc.

Most of the hour is consumed watching Joe and the adventuress he meets (Diane Cilento) outsmarting border guards and being chased by ship captains as they beat their way to New York and the United Nations.

THERE IS EVEN a used car dealer (Buddy Hackett) to take advantage of our hero and heroine (Joe ultimately shows the cynical adventuress the beauty of dignity and the virtue in idealism).

Obviously Ross conceived this comedy-drama in the tradition of the Harold Lloyds and Charlie Chaplins where the "little man" by hook or crook and plenty of obstinacy attains victory — and the girl.

The ingredients for such a mixture are not there, unfortunately. Neither Bates nor Miss Cilento seems to have the peculiar talent for pantomime so essential in such a comedy, or if they do, then they are not allowed by Argentine film director Leopoldo Torre-Nilsson to display it here.

IN THE ROSS SCRIPT there are a few chuckles along the way, but farces require hilarious boffs or belly laughs, and Ross' situations are not that funny.

And hardly any suspense exists in the climactic scene where our farmer presents his cadre before the august gentlemen of the U.N. committee. Everything turns out to be pathetically simple for Joe, once he has made his pitch for the tractor.

One of the ingredients overlooked by Ross is pathos, which always was found laced into the Chaplin and Lloyd comedies. One felt a great sympathy with their characters because of their plight and their usually unsophisticated means for solving all dilemmas. In the case of farmer Joe and his girl, they are likeable enough, but I did not find myself pulling for them.

SO FAR, the Telsun Foundation, which was set up on a nonprofit basis by a group of private citizens to subsidize a series of six TV specials to more fully acquaint people with the social and economic work of the United Nations, has had only a modicum of success.

Rod Serling's "Carol for Another Christmas," the first in the series and telecast last December, was ponderous and overly propagandized. The second, a story of floating refugees by Tad Mosel and adapted to TV by Don Mankiewicz, was called "Who Has Seen the Wind?" It was artistically outstanding and had more than average merit in the story it told.

Because of problems in lining up producers, Telsun has cut the series to five shows now, and one of these may need an overhauling in light of events on the Pakistan - India border last week.

PRODUCER Sam Spiegel has been working on a story by the late Eugene Burdick about a U.N. peace-keeping observer on the Pakistan-India "cease - fire line."

The other is a Joe Eisinger teleplay ("Poppies Are Also Flowers") based on the late Ian Fleming's story about illegal narcotics traffic and being filmed in Iran and southern Europe.

In a year when TV's vapidity has been overwhelming, a noble effort such as the U.N. series is sorely needed. It is too bad it couldn't have been nobler.

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — An Amish father of 11 was killed in Greentown, north of here, when a stone crusher hammer apparently struck a bar he was using and drove it into his chest.

Ohio 'Hot Wire' Law Being Tested In Court

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's controversial two-year-old "hot wire" law, which gives electric utilities the right to run high-voltage lines through cities, is being tested in court in a dispute between the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. (CEI) and the city of Painesville.

The case got under way Tuesday and CEI is seeking a declaratory judgment that it does not need the city's consent to string 345,000-volt lines on steel towers through the city or, if it does, consent cannot be legally withheld.

City Council adopted June 21 an ordinance requiring electric utility wires over 33,000 volts to be underground.

2 Men Grab $1,200 At Cleveland Firm

CLEVELAND (AP)—An East Side Finance company was robbed Tuesday of $1,200 by two men, one of them armed, who bound the hands of the manager and his receptionist.

Floyd Collins unable to extricate himself from Sand Cave, near Cave City, Ky., died within 300 feet of the entrance in 1925.

Mongooses Fail To Stop Rats

Deterioration Of Haiti Continuing Despite Aid

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Rats infest Haiti. They nest in the thick grass roof of a peasant's hut and feed on his meager crops. They seem to own the country road at night as they flit back and forth in the headlights.

The U.S. government once tried to do something about the rats. Mongooses were introduced into the country. But the project failed. The mongooses, instead of attacking the rats ate the peasant's chickens, adding to his burden.

For many Haitians, the mongoose project is a fair illustration of the effectiveness of foreign aid in the Western Hemisphere's poorest nation. One hundred million dollars has been spent to aid Haiti since World War II. Most of it came from the United States. But the deterioration of the country seems to continue.

Much of the aid was for road construction and maintenance. Yet the 200-mile ride from Port au Prince to Les Cayes, a southern port city, takes more than 15 hours by Jeep today. It was a four-hour trip by car in 1957, the year Francois Duvalier became president.

Near Les Cayes a huge earth mover sits abandoned on a rise in the rutted road. The initials "U.S.A." are stenciled on the doors. Weeds grow through the engine hood. Peasants in the neighborhood say the earth mover blew a tire six years ago. Before a new tire was obtained, the road project stopped and the earth mover was forgotten.

In the potentially rich Artibonite Valley, a dam and irrigation system stands as a monument to what U.S. officials describe as corruption and inefficiency in the Haitain government. More than $30 million, borrowed from the Export-Import Bank, went into the project. The money was exhausted before electric generators were installed. They were left to rust in the fields.

The Duvalier government no longer maintains the dam and the irrigation canals. They are clogged with silt, limiting agricultural development of the valley.

One aid project has been successful in recent years, and its success helps explain some of the failures.

In 1961, Duvalier signed a $3.5-million credit agreement with the International Development Bank. Under it, an institute of agricultural and industrial development was established as an autonomous branch of the Haitian government. The director, Jean Delej, a U.S. citizen, assumed control over money and hiring.

The institute set out to provide financial and technical assistance for the small peasant farmer — and also a market for his product.

This was the key feature. In the Haitian feudal economy, the peasant farmer doesn't conceive of a good market for a good crop. Cotton, growing nearly wild, always has been purchased by Port au Prince merchants for five or six cents a pound.

The institute, through a series of small loans to peasants, encouraged proper cultivation of a better grade of cotton, then paid 10 cents a pound.

The program started slowly as skeptical peasants used their loans to buy fertilizer, insecticide, seed and advice from the institute. In a matter of months, the yield on many tiny holdings jumped from 200 to 2,000 pounds per acre. The number of participating farmers in the volunteer program went from 136 in 1962 to 1,053 in 1964 to 4,600 this year. The 1965 production was 5.2 million pounds of the highest grade cotton Haiti has seen in generations.

Similar loan programs have been carried out for corn and grain, with similar results in the past 12 months, according to the institute's figures.

The institute has spent $2,045,200 since 1961 and has made loans to 10,000 of Haiti's 500,000 peasant families.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Do you know what can be done in a jiffy with a swatch of leftover drapery material or any fabric?

I simply press transparent adhesive-backed plastic paper to the top side of the material, smooth it carefully with my hand, turn it over, then do the same with the other side.

No hemming is necessary, and you can cut the completed job in any shape you prefer. This makes handy, easy-to-clean table runners, doilies for lamp bases, etc.

DEAR FOLKS: How William ever figured this one out, I'll never know!

He sent us a sample that looks like heavy upholstery material. I presume he had covered a piece of furniture with this. And, just as he says, it does not ravel.

My idea, which just hit me like a ton of bricks, would be:

Next time you cover your dining room chairs, buy some extra material, and make yourself some place mats for your dining room table! Then it would all match. With the swipe of a damp sponge, they could be cleaned in a jiffy.

If your child drops food on your upholstered dining room chairs, try using this method on it.

Also . . . the transparent plastic does not look shiny. Its' hardly noticeable.

This idea could certainly be utilized for those of you who have polished cotton kitchen curtains, and want to cover your breakfast room chairs to match. Heretofore, polished cotton was quite impractical as a chair cover. Not any more!

Next time you make new kitchen curtains, why not buy some extra yardage to cover your chairs and to make some place mats for your table.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever tried pinning several thicknesses of nylon net over your squeegee mop, when giving the kitchen floors a quick swipe?

It's great for getting up dabs of dropped food without getting down on your hands and knees to scrape it off.

JOAN DEISSLER.

DEAR HELOISE: For the gal who cooks bacon for breakfast, and always wishes that the job was already done . . .

To save my clothing — and avoid getting a stove greasy I fry as much as two pounds of bacon at a time. I drain it well on paper towels, then package it separately (in breakfast - size portions) in foil, and place in my freezer.

At breakfast time, I preheat the oven to 375 degrees (before making the coffee), then place an unopened, foil-wrapped, frozen package of bacon in the oven.

Five to eight minutes in the oven does the trick!

MRS. A. C. McFARLAND.

DEAR HELOISE: My youngest child has trouble managing a bar of soap for handwashing.

No trouble now and the novelty encourages that little job.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Kerosene is a very effective product to remove crayon marks from sidewalks. Just scrub hard with a stiff brush.

It will also remove such marks from painted wood, etc.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of our dear daughter, Helen Orr who passed away 3 years ago today, September 8th, 1962.
When the evening shades are falling And I sit here all alone, In my heart there comes a longing if you only could come home. They say time heals all sorrow and helps one to forget but time so far has only proved how much I miss you yet. Although your soul is now at rest and free from care and pain, It would seem like heaven if I had you back again. God gives us strength to carry on, And courage to heal the blow but what it meant to lose you no one will ever know. Beside your grave I often stand, my heart both crushed and sore. But in the gloom the sweet words come, not lost but gone before. God knows the tears I shed. Then he whispers, "She only sleeps your loved one is not dead." So I'll be brave my dear and pray to God each day. That when he calls me home to you. Your smile will guide my way.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose, daughters, and brother, Eileen, Marie and Charles.

IN memory of Mrs. Helen Orr, who passed away 3 years ago, Sept. 8, 1962.
Please God forgive a silent tear A constant wish that she were here.
There are others yes we know. But she was ours and we loved her so.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of our dear daughter, Helen Orr who passed away 3 years ago today, September 8th, 1962.
When the evening shades are falling And I sit here all alone, In my heart there comes a longing if you only could come home. They say time heals all sorrow and helps one to forget but time so far has only proved how much I miss you yet. Although your soul is now at rest and free from care and pain, It would seem like heaven if I had you back again. God gives us strength to carry on, And courage to heal the blow but what it meant to lose you no one will ever know. Beside your grave I often stand, my heart both crushed and sore. But in the gloom the sweet words come, not lost but gone before. God knows the tears I shed. Then he whispers, "She only sleeps your loved one is not dead." So I'll be brave my dear and pray to God each day. That when he calls me home to you. Your smile will guide my way.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose, daughters, and brother, Eileen, Marie and Charles.

IN memory of Mrs. Helen Orr, who passed away 3 years ago, Sept. 8, 1962.
Please God forgive a silent tear A constant wish that she were here.
There are others yes we know, But she was ours and we loved her so.

Junior Editors Quiz on LEAVES

Doris notices the difference between the leaves close by and the color of the leaf-covered mountain far away. To see the difference, color the light part of the close-up leaves bright yellow green and the distant hills a smoky faint blue. Distance is blue because the earth's atmosphere scatters the variously colored light rays, but the blue ones, which are the shortest, scatter most widely through the sky (upper right) and so give a blue tint to the air. When you see a distant object, the air between makes it bluer and also lighter and more toward the bluegreen, and with more distance the whole mountain begins to have a light smoky blue look. This is a very beautiful effect, and if Doris can match the colors, it will give to her picture a wonderful feeling of air.

FOR YOU TO DO: We can't all be Dorises, but we can all look at close-up leaves, contrast these with more distant ones and see the blue in the air. This will make you realize how painting can open one's eyes to beauties in nature.

In 1900, more than 6,000 persons were lost when a hurricane, floods and tidal wave hit the Galveston, Tex., area.

Use Imagination To Make A Fresh Start

What time of year do you enjoy the most? For your dietitian, it is right now, when the lazy days of summer are over. At this season I am rested, relaxed and ready for work. I have a feeling that I can do almost anything!

Ida Jean Kain

At the start of a new season, I speculate afresh as to what I can tell you readers that will help you to stretch your imaginations so as to get a new view of what you want to accomplish. Without imagination life would be deadly dull. Winnifred Jardine, food editor and home economist, wrote: "Imagination is like a ride on a kite, soaring high above the earth to get a new perspective on old spheres as well as adventuring into new ones.

—:—

"OUR IMAGINATIONS dictate what we see, both with our eyes and our minds. . .Where our minds are concerned, our imagination prod us to progress by visualizing new things. The imagination dictates which attitude is ours."

"I feel I must write this letter as a word of encouragement to those who are bogged down with weight and in a work-a-day rut. . .

"I am 36, 5' 4" tall, and a year ago, in August, I weighed 170 pounds.

"I am the mother of four children (three of them teen-agers), and felt I just had to get off by myself. So, I took a four-day vacation to relax and reflect. . .and pull myself together. I'm an executive secretary, plus homemaker.

"I found during my brief respite that when I wasn't feeling pushed I did not want to eat continually between meals. I did not have dieting in mind. Out of curiosity, I stepped on the scales and found that I had lost five pounds. This was all the incentive I needed. Then and there I determined to get down to my ideal weight by Christmas.

"WELL, A YEAR has gone by and I weigh a trim 123 pounds. I lost weight and inches proportionately and have been told by many that I look at least 15 years younger than I did when heavy. Best of all, I feel years younger.

"I've developed good eating habits, and do not take seconds. I've cut out sweet snacks. I reached my goal last January, and I've held it.

"It's so good to hear my daughters say to me, 'Mother you look and act younger than any of our friends' mothers'."

Ex-Resident To Study Designing In England

Her sister, Miss Jane Wright, recently returned from Tanglewood, Mass., where she studied music for eight weeks under a full scholarship. She will return to Duquesne University at Pittsburgh, where she has a scholarship and is majoring in voice.

Allen, Chandler Join Sessions Of Retailers

The meeting will continue through Friday noon.

The Chamber of Commerce Executives of Ohio also will convene today at Granville in conjunction with the retailers' meeting. Chandler will submit his final report as treasurer and assume the secretary's post, to which he was elected about a month ago. The CCEO is comprised of professional Chamber executives.

Thieves Remove Lights At Church

Seven fluorescent light units valued at $1.90 each were stolen Monday night or early Tuesday from the Trinity United Presbyterian Church on Maine Blvd., police were told yesterday afternoon.

In the same incident, five wooden barricades used to mark parking stalls were thrown over an embankment, but all were located and retrieved by the custodian. At the same time, an auto was driven across the church lawn, cutting deep ruts in the grass, officers said.

Patrolman Charles A. Winters, desk officer, received the report of the theft and vandalism and Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins investigated.
